UNITES STATES DEFERS ACTION

On Panama Canal Bill Because of English Protest.

HAY-PAUNCEFOTE TREATY VIOLATED

According to View Taken by Great Britain.

In Her Objection to Measure, England Claims Preferential Treatment Given to American Coastwise Ships Over Foreign Vessels Is a Violation of Treaty Insuring Free Use of the Canal.

Washington, July 11.—Secretary of State Knox today informed Great Britain through Alfred Mitchell Innes, counsellor of the British embassy, that the United States must decline to defer action on the Panama canal bill, now pending in the senate, until the receipt of the formal British protest against the passage of the bill. The secretary of state added that there are a number of other measures which will precede the Panama canal bill in the senate, and the time of debate probably will be long enough to permit of the filing of the British protest.

Great Britain, in her objection to the measure, claimed the preferential treatment given to American coastwise ships over foreign ships is a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty insuring the free and equal use of the canal to the vessels of commerce and of war of all the world.

The state department will decline to discuss the protest either formally or informally until the senate acts on the bill.

Senator Frank Brandegee, chairman of the senate committee on interocean canals, today made public the text of the notification of protest by Great Britain. The notice was received under date of July 5 from Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson and read:

Text of Telegram.

"I have the honor to quote for your information the text of a telegram this day received from the charge d'affaires of Great Britain as follows

"I shall shortly be in a position to make a communication to you regarding a bill now in the senate on the subject of the Panama canal dues I trust that it may be possible, in the meantime, to postpone the further consideration of that bill by congress."

Brandegee denied knowledge of the basis the British government may make for its complaint, and declined to discuss the effect of free tolls for American ships, or the treaty rights of Great Britain. He pointed out that the provisions of the canal bill are regarded with widely different views by members of the committee, and stated not one member of the committee favored every provision of the bill, so it is impossible to make even a majority report.

In acknowledging the secretary of state's communication, Brandegee said he regards the necessity of legislation for the canal as imperative at this session.

View in England.

London, July 11.—Aside from an admission that negotiations between the foreign office and the state department of the United States government relative to the passage of the Panama canal administration bill had been begun, no official statement came from the British government today. The utmost reticence is being maintained. The private secretary to Sir Edward Grey, British foreign minister, informed the National News correspondent today that in view of the delicate state of affairs existing at present it was deemed advisable not to make any statement while the negotiations were in progress. The negotiations were still going on, he said. It was hoped the United States congress would hold the bill until such time as the British contention that several clauses of the Panama canal administration bill are harmful to British shipping and other interests could be presented. The United States has apparently given no answer yet to England's request.

There is a strong feeling in political circles here that the bill is unfair to British shipping. If it becomes necessary, Sir Edward Grey will take the responsibility of asking a long and exhaustive explanation of the clauses in the bill which are objectionable. This action, deserting as it would, the ordinary channels of diplomacy, would precipitate an extraordinary situation and one which might give rise to embarrassing developments for both nations.

Sir Edward personally has charge of the British end of the negotiations and so far they have proceeded in the most cordial manner.

PORTUGAL IS WATCHED CLOSELY BY ENGLAND

The Complications There May Require Summary Action.

London, July 11.—The British government is watching developments in Portugal closely, fearing that complications will arise that will require summary action. Dispatches from Madrid stated that the royalists have burned Braga, a city of 25,000 inhabitants, indicate that a condition of anarchy prevails in the northern section of Portugal.

If the situation grows worse, British warships will be sent to Oporto to protect foreign interests.

Follows Ancestors.

Philadelphia, July 11.—Joseph E. Mifflin, one of the local "400," has announced that he will drive a dump cart in the historical pageant to be held here in October. He says that's the way his ancestors got their start.

Wins Albert Match.

Bisley, Eng., July 11.—Maurice Blood, of the Irish Rifle association, today won the Albert match competition in the annual shoot of the National Rifle association here. His score was 221.

Children Accuse Mothers.

Pittsburgh, July 11.—Mrs. Lettie Stevens, and Mrs. Sallie Butcher are detained in jail here, together with their three children, who accuse their mothers of teaching them to steal.

COLONEL'S BOLT MIXES THINGS

California Republicans Are in Wilderness,

AND MUST CARVE THEIR WAY OUT

Complications Puzzle the So-Called Progressives.

Roosevelt Has Put California into an Unique Position, and Through His Chicago Tactics Throws Friends into Difficulties from Which They Can Scarcely Be Relieved—Taft Figures in Fight, Too.

San Francisco, July 11—Theodore Roosevelt's bolt at Chicago has thrown the Republicans of California into a wilderness of difficulties out of which they must carve their way before the presidential election November 5. Through the complications of the new California primary law, which will be tried for the first time, it appears now that the contest at the Republican primary September 3 will not be so much a fight to elect certain candidates to the senate and assembly of the legislature and to the national congress, but another fight between President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt. Roosevelt has put California into a unique position. Outside of this state he is a national progressive. In it he is a Republican. This is because the primary law does not provide for a third party here.

If Roosevelt's followers carry everything before them, and for the present, at least, they have the upper hand, it is possible that a Taft Republican will have no opportunity to vote for his leader in California November 5. The presidential electors from California are to be chosen in party conventions to meet in Sacramento at the end of September.

Since Governor Johnson's proclamation that he refuses to recognize the nomination of President Taft on the ground that it was the work of "porch climbers," the progressive Republicans have chosen to remain within their party ranks, and to make their great fight a campaign to place Roosevelt electors on the regular Republican ticket.

May Defy Officers.

Chicago, July 11.—Despite the orders of Mayor Harrison, officers of the Plaza Athletic Club say they will try to stage the Ketchell-Murphy boxing bout next Monday night

Jack Gets an Offer.

Chicago, July 11.—Jack Johnson says he has received an offer from Charles O'Malley, at Las Vegas, New Mexico, for a battle with Al Palzer, the Iowa white hope.

LIGHTNING TURNS ON GAS, THEN LIGHTS IT

Boston, July 11.—During an electrical storm last night the lightning turned on all the gas jets in the house of John Veaslie, and then lit the gas.

OPEN THREATS OF SPLIT MADE

Bitterness Continues Among the Teachers.

NEW ORGANIZATION MAY BE RESULT

Educators Wrangle Instead of Instructing.

Friends of Miss Grace Strachan, of New York, Who Is Defeated for Presidency of Association, Discuss Advisability of Starting an Eastern Association and Leaving the Old Organization.

Chicago, July 11.—Bitterness in the National Educational association, which developed over the fight for the presidency, has not disappeared with the selection of E. T Fairchild, of Kansas, and today there were open threats of a split in the organization. Friends of Miss Grace Strachan, of New York, who was defeated for the candidacy, discussed the advisability of organizing an eastern association and leaving the present organization. These suggestions came after the presidential election had been held and was followed by an exchange of charges between Miss Strachan and Miss Margaret Haley, of Chicago.

Miss Matilda C. Ford, one of Miss Strachan's political managers, precipitated a row when she charged that Miss Haley had tried to intimidate her in the convention hall. Then, Miss Haley made a public affidavit which she had prepared, but had not intended to use. The affidavit asserts that Miss Haley was present at a meeting of some of the New York teachers when Miss Strachan's candidacy was first discussed. She said she told the New York teachers that the Chicago teachers thought Miss Strachan's candidacy at this time ill advised.

Politics in It.

Then, the affidavit asserts, the New York teachers asked a number of questions about political conditions and suggested that if Mayor Harrison could be forced to tell Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of Chicago schools, to support Miss Strachan, the Chicagoans might change their views.

They also discussed the advisability of getting a letter from Mayor Gaynor to Mayor Harrison, and "getting a line on" some member of the board of education. Miss Strachan's reply was decidedly torrid. She said that in San Francisco, Miss Haley and she had been appointed members of a committee to investigate teachers' salaries. The committee employed a secretary at $1,500. Her charge, flatly stated, was that Miss Haley wanted the place, but Miss Strachan opposed the idea and it went to some one else.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD BRIDE TAKES LIFE

Body of Girl Is Fished from the Oswego Canal.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 11.—The body of Mignon Lockerbie, eleven years old, who claims to have been married to William Colvin, nineteen, at Niagara Falls, six months ago, was taken from the Oswego canal at Liverpool, two miles from this city, this morning. Colvin told his parents that he had never married the girl.

Last Sunday the girl came to a local newspaper and announced her marriage. She said she and Colvin had been married, but had kept it a secret "Now we want to live together," she said. But they did not. Colvin was driven from his home because he refused to live with the girl, his mother says. He is missing.

DEATH-DEFYING DASH OF A FRENCH AVIATOR

M. Frey Makes New Aerial Speed Record at Aerodrome.

Rheims, France, July 11.—In a death-defying dash on a straight-away air course, M. Frey made a new aerial speed record today for an aeroplane carrying a passenger doing 150 kilometers, or about ninety-four miles an hour, on Betheny's plain In a flight at the Betheny aerodrome, Frey traveled 135 kilometers an hour.

AROUND WORLD IN THIRTY-NINE DAYS

A New Globe-Girdling Record Is Made by Arizona Men.

Los Angeles, July 11.—A new globe-girdling record was today claimed by J. A. Allen and E. K. Scott, of Phoenix, who have just arrived after a trip around the world in thirty-nine days. They left Los Angeles June 1 and three days later left Seattle for Vladivostock. They crossed Asia by the trans-Siberian railway and then went to Paris.

TO LEAD IN NEW ROOSEVELT PARTY.

WM. H. HOTCHKISS

William H. Hotchkiss, who was appointed Superintendent of Insurance in New York by former Governor Hughes, has been selected as chairman of the new Roosevelt party, and will begin his duties at once. "Tim" Woodruff was slated for the place, but it was thought best to choose Hotchkiss.

ANOTHER SAYS THAW IS SANE

Expert Agrees with Testimony of Alienist White.

DECLARES THAW IS SAFE AT LIBERTY

Night Session May Be Held, Says the Court.

Judge Keogh Is Anxious That Hearing Come to an Early End—Attorney Jerome Brings Out Important Points When Cross-Examining the Expert Who Declares That Thaw Is Sane.

White Plains, N. Y., July 11.—Dr. Charles Mills, one of the most expert alienists in this country and instructor in several large medical colleges, resumed the stand in the Thaw sanity hearing when court was called here today before Judge Martin J. Keogh. The alienist reaffirmed his belief that Harry K. Thaw is sane, suffering from no delusion and that his release from Matteawan would not prove unsafe to the public weal. He corroborated in detail the testimony given yesterday by himself and Dr. William A. White, head of the federal asylum for the insane at Washington.

Prior to opening of court today, Clarence J. Shearn, for Thaw, stated that he might conclude his case late today. This is not certain, however, and it was predicted in court that Judge Keogh might hold a night session tonight. The judge announced yesterday that he would sit until 6 p. m. today in the hope of concluding testimony taking.

"Is there any reason whatever," asked Attorney Shearn, of Dr. Mills, "in view of all the evidence, why Thaw should not be released?"

"No, there is not," answered the doctor.

On cross-examination former District Attorney Jerome brought out that when the alienist examined Thaw, the latter was fully aware that the doctor was going to be called to testify for him.

TWO HURT WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

A Racing Auto Upsets Near Youngstown This Morning.

Youngstown, O., July 11.—Two men were probably fatally injured in an auto accident at Mosier, Ohio, near here early this morning when their racing car overturned while traveling at high speed. The entire party of six people was thrown to the highway.

Irwin Allison and William Wayland, the two badly hurt, were pinioned under the car.

Will Clash Friday.

Winnipeg, Man., July 11.—"Battling" Nelson and Mickey McIntyre will clash here Fridak night at catch weights in a twelve-round go.

Shoots the Dressmaker.

Paris, July 11.—Because she made his wife a dress that did not fit, a man named Petrier shot Mlle. Felicite Ramus.

SECOND DAY OF THE CONVENTION

Brings Fight to Fore Among Prohibitionists.

STANDPATTERS AND INSURGENTS AT ODDS

Chairmanship Selection Causes Differences.

Factional Fight Hinges on Desire of Insurgents To Overthrow Standpat Domination of the "Dry" National Committee—An Amendment Precipitates Long Wrangle—Platform of Prohibition Party.

Convention Hall, Atlantic City, N. J., July 11.—The beginning of the fight between the insurgent and standpat Prohibitionists' factions over the national chairmanship and the report of the sub-committee of the committee on resolutions marked the opening of the second day of the convention of the Prohibition party. The factional fight hinges on the desire of the insurgents to overthrow the standpat domination of the "dry" national committee, which practically directs the affairs of the party during the interim between national conventions.

H. R. Patton, of Illinois, started the ball rolling by offering an amendment to the rules committee calling for the election of the national chairman by the convention at large. This amendment precipitated a long technical wrangle between the rival factions, which promised a warm fight before the matter is settled.

Called to Order.

The convention was called to order by Permanent Chairman H. C. Mead, who was elected by the insurgents last night. As a preliminary to the regular business of the convention, E. O. Excell, of Chicago, led the delegates in song and Rev. L. C. Jordan, a colored preacher from Louisville, Kentucky, pronounced the invocation.

The Indiana delegation, arriving at the close of the invocation, marched around the hall with waving banners advocating the selection of F. W. Lough, of Washington, for chairman of the national committee. Lough is a compromise candidate for this position, W. G. Calderwood, of Indiana, being the insurgent choice. Secretary T. H. Murray, of the rules committee, then read the rules adopted by that body. These included a program that would allow the selection of presidential and vice presidential candidates and the adjournment of the convention today. The fight over the national chairmanship will probably make this impossible, however.

Recess Is Taken.

The convention took a two-hour recess after a fruitless effort to wave the order of business and proceed to the roll call of state for the nomination of candidates.

The recess was taken amid scenes of confusion occasioned by the contrary rulings of the chair and the persistent interruptions of the delegates. The appointment of national committee and national chairman was put over until this afternoon in order to give the committee time to report on the mode of procedure. The report of the resolutions committee was next on the program, but the chairman requested that he be allowed a few hours more. This was agreed to and a motion was made to proceed with nominating speeches Many of the delegates, however, were averse to nominating candidates before the adoption of a platform, and the cries of "point of order" were so numerous that the chairman settled this confusion by entertaining a motion to adjourn.

Prohibition Platform.

Convention Hall, Atlantic City, N. J., July 11.—The important planks in the prohibition party platform as adopted by the resolutions committee are as follows:

1—Direct election of United States senators.

2—A presidential term of six years and one term only.

3—A uniform marriage and divorce law, the extermination of polygamy and the complete suppression of white slave traffic.

4—Suffrage for women on the same terms as men.

5—Court review of postoffice decisions.

6—The absolute protection of the rights of labor without impairment of the rights of capital

7—The settlement of all international disputes by arbitration.

8—The initiative and referendum without the recall.

The Tariff Question.

9—The tariff is a commercial question and should be fixed scientifically on the basis of accurate knowledge secured by a basis of a permanent, non-partisan tariff commission, with ample powers.

10—An elastic currency system adequate to our expanding industrial needs.

11—Complete separation of church and state and opposition to appropriation of public funds for any sectarian purpose.

12—Abolition of child labor in mines, workshops and factories, with rigid enforcement of the laws now "flagrantly violated."

13—Equitable graduated income and inheritance taxes.

The remaining planks advocate government economy, conservation of natural resources, the repeal of all laws permitting traffic in liquor and more clearly defined laws for the regulation of "big business."

ENGLISH STRIKERS AND POLICE CLASH

More Than 1,400 Take Part in Battle at Docks.

London, July 11.—More than 1,400 persons today took part in a battle between strikers and police at the Surrey commercial docks when a band of strikers endeavored to persuade strike-breakers, who are working under police guard, to desert their posts. There were 700 strikers in the mob which tried to storm the docks and remove the non-strikers by force. Six hundred police surrounded the docks and attempted to drive the strikers off. For several hours a battle raged in which scores were hurt on both sides. The police attacked the strikers with their riot sticks. Hundreds of extra police were rushed to the scene to reinforce the guard already on the scene.

The ringleaders of the strikers threatened to make another assault later in the day.

WANTS WOMAN'S BODY TO LIE IN STATE

Dead Denver Woman's Memory To Be Honored by Governor.

Denver Colo., July 11.—For the first time in the history of Colorado Governor Shafroth has asked that the body of a woman be permitted to lie in state at the capitol. The woman whose memory is thus honored is Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, former president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Decker's body will arrive from San Francisco today and the governor has suggested that it lie at the capitol for at least two hours. The mayor has ordered all city and county offices closed during the hours set for the funeral services.

A Peculiar Case.

London, July 11.—Beatrice Etherington, born a normal child, became deaf and dumb when her twin sister died at the age of two years and nine months, according to a report to the Crertsea board of guardians.

Murdock's Very Latest.

Washington, July 11.—Representative Murdock, of Kansas, has introduced a bill for the "manufacture of pure clothes" and prohibiting the sale of impure clothes.

ONE LIFE DEPARTS AS ANOTHER COMES

Pittsburgh, July 11.—Simultaneous with the birth of his baby, V. J. Reede, a painter, was struck by lightning and killed during a storm.

PRAISES TEDDY; SCORES WILSON

General Sickles Boosts "Bull Moose" Party.

SOUTHERNER CAN'T ENTER WHITE HOUSE

Because He Is Reared on the Wrong Side.

That Is the Declaration of General Sickles, Who Adds That the Old Parties, Democratic and Republican, Are No Longer Satisfactory, So He Joins Roosevelt's Third-Party Movement.

New York, July 11.—Sixty representatives of the provisional New York state committee of the "Bull Moose" party met here today and wildly cheered Colonel Roosevelt as they made plans for the campaign in New York. General Daniel E. Sickles, the chief speaker, attacked Governor Wilson.

William H. Hotchkiss, chairman of the committee, presided. The gathering started out with cheers for the colonel. Then General Sickles was introduced. He said:

"The old parties are not satisfactory in many respects. It is the first time since the war that a southern man has been named for president. Mr. Wilson is a nice man, he is an honest man, and a affable man. However, Mr. Wilson was born and reared in rebellion surroundings. He was born and reared on the wrong side.

"We northerners are never disposed to put a man who has been reared in the confederacy, so to speak, whose people fought on the confederate side, in the White House.

"We wish no repetition of the secession movement. This nation is one and inseparable now and forever. That is the determination of the progressive party."

There came wild yells of approval as the general, who lost one of his legs in the civil war, scored Governor Wilson. He added that he had voted for Lincoln because he did not believe in the copperhead Democracy of the time, although he had previously been a Democrat and had voted for Buchanan. For forty years, he went on, he had been a Republican.

"I am now happy to be a supporter of my esteemed friend, Theodore Roosevelt," he said, and the committee men cheered for five minutes. A man got a red bandana and waved it and the cheering was renewed with still greater violence.

Tribute to Colonel.

The general paid a high tribute to the colonel, after the noise subsided, and Chairman Hotchkiss addressed the committeemen as "brethren of the 'Bull Moose.'"

The chairman called the roll of counties to see who was on hand. Some sixty New Yorkers and one enthusiast from Hoboken answered the call.

Among them were Regis N. Post, former governor of Porto Rico; G. B. Van Wart, of Kings; Hamilton Fish, Jr., Linden Bates, Jr., Amos Pinchot, Ernest Harvier, Reuben Grebhill, General Daniel E. Sickles and M. L. Blakely.

After the rollcall, the committee proceeded to lay plans for the campaign.

ELKS ELIMINATE ALL GOAT-RIDING

Vote To Abolish "Rough House Work" Is Carried.

Portland, Ore., July 11.—Hereafter all "goat-riding" will be eliminated from Elk initiations. Such was the action taken by the Grand lodge in session here. The ritual committee left the question to the Grand lodge for consideration, and after two hours' debate, the vote to abolish "rough house work" carried.

A fight is expected on the question of location of the new national Elks' home, which the home committee proposed building at Bedford City, Virginia.

Robert Broad, manager-editor of the Louisville Times, has been appointed to succeed himself as a member of the grand forum and Edward Rightor was named to fill the place made vacant by the death of Judge Donovan.

Finds Drug in Milk.

Canton, O., July 11.—With twenty-one cases of ptomaine poisoning reported since Tuesday, Dr. A. H. Calhoun, a local physician announced that tests he made of milk showed dangerous formaldehyde adulteration.

POISON KILLS SOUTHERNERS

Eight Are Dead in Georgia and Texas.

SCORE OF OTHERS IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Wholesale Poisoning Plot Is Suspected.

In Georgia Four Lose Lives by Eating Meat and Others Are Dying, While in Texas Drinking Water Is Fatal to Four and Many Others Are Said To Be Near Death.—Police Are Investigating.

Augusta, Ga., July 10.—Four persons are dead, seven are declared by physicians to be in a dying condition and eighteen others are critically ill as the result of eating what is supposed to have been poisoned meat at a reunion of the Canady family at the home of Mack Canady, near Garfield, Georgia, July 4.

The List of Dead.

Appeal for Help.

Last night appeal was made to the City hospital in Augusta for aid, and all available trained nurses were sent to Garfield by the first train. Forty-five persons are said to have been poisoned, all members of the Canady family. The poisoning is said to have resulted from mixing a seasoning containing black pepper and vinegar in a zinc tub and using it on the barbecued meat. A mysterious stranger is sought.

The Canady family is one of the most prominent in Emmanuel county.

Four Others Killed.

San Antonio, Texas, July 10.—Four deaths and fifteen persons seriously ill as the result of a wholesale poisoning at San Diego, near here, which resulted in the arrest of a man and woman, who had to be spirited away to save them from lynching.

A barrel of drinking water at the Rosalia ranch was poisoned with arsenic, and resulted in the sudden death of County Commissioner M. G. Diaz. Neighbors summoned to the home without knowing the cause of death also drank from the barrel and were stricken. It is feared the fatalities will amount to eight or nine.

In testing the water food mixed with the water was fed to dogs and other animals and resulted in instant death.

The population is aroused, and while the two suspects, who were servants in the Diaz family, denied their guilt, armed forces are searching the country for them.

Two men and two women are dead.

FROM NEW YORK CITY TO MAMMMOTH CAVE

Two Students Make Way in Seventeen-Foot Boat.

Mammoth Cave, Ky., July 10.—In the "Wee Winifreda," a seventeen-foot boat with an attachable gasoline engine, two Columbia university students, George Wilfred Stumberg, of St. Charles, Missouri, and Paul Ogilvie, of Los Angeles, California, have just completed a journey from 108th street, New York City, to the Mammoth cave landing on Green river, having traversed the Hudson river, Erie canal, Allegheny river, Ohio river and Green river on their trip.

ONE MAN HOLDS UP THIRTY-NINE OTHERS

Chicago, July 10.—George Rodgers held up thirty-seven men and two bartenders in the Boston saloon. Two thirsty policemen entered and arrested Rodgers, after beating him into unconsciousness.

MANY OLD SOLDIERS GOING TO COLUMBUS

Veterans May Sleep and Breakfast at United States Barracks.

Grand Army veterans are very much interested in "Veterans' Day" of the coming Ohio-Columbus Centennial celebration. Veterans' Day is set for Friday, August 30, and it is a certainty that a great many of them will be there from all parts of the state. Captain J. H. Carpenter has an official invitation for Cooper Post and the Woman's Relief Corps and other allied organizations.

A feature that especially pleases many of the veterans is a fine bit of thoughtfulness on the part of the War department. All veterans who do not care to stop at hotels will be furnished comfortable beds and an army breakfast at the United States barracks, free of all charge. It will delight many a veteran to be Uncle Sam's guest and enjoy an army breakfast again.

QUITE WELL KNOWN TO MARION PEOPLE

Are Guests of Honor at a Reception Held in Cardington.

Contract Awarded.

Wednesday, in the office of the county commissioners, the contract for constructing the abutments for the bridge over the Scioto river on the Morris pike was awarded to P. Drake & Sons at their bid of $1,-241. Other bidders and bids were E. O. O'Brien, $1,416, and Travis & Lyon, $1,400.

THE RAILROADS.

The preliminary work was started Tuesday on the erection of a big addition of fifteen stalls to the Erie roundhouse in this city. As was stated a few days ago all the plans for the addition have been completed and passed upon by the officials of the road and the active work will now be pushed with vigor until the completion of the structure. The addition will mean as expense of $13,-000. It will extend to the north of the present structure taking the place of the buildings adjoining the roundhouse as it is now and occupied by the offices

While the building of the big addition is a splendid one, it is only a part of the great work to be done by the Erie here. As stated heretofore, the preliminary work has been begun at laying out a new yard to the south of the roundhouse, and active work will be in progress here in the very near future. The double-tracking work out of this city is to be begun shortly, while it is already in progress not far west of the city These improvements, together with the laying of pipe from the water softener to the roundhouse and all kindred improvements, will be pushed by the Erie at once, so as to handle the work necessitated by the removal of the terminal to this city from Galion.

JUDGE SCHROTH TO OPPOSE DONNELLY

For Election to Circuit Judgeship in This District.

MATTER OF SELECTION IS LEFT TO COMMITTEE

There Are but Two Candidates, Judge Schroth and E. J. Howenstine, of Bellefontaine—They Put Selection Up to Committee and on First Ballot Schroth Wins.

The Republican circuit judicial committee of the Third circuit judicial district of Ohio, J. W. Halfhill, chairman, has named Judge George E. Schroth, of Tiffin, to oppose Judge Michael Donnelly, the Democratic candidate for reelection, the committee having met at Lima for that purpose.

Judge Schroth and E. J. Howenstine, of Bellefontaine, who were the only candidates, voluntarily left the choice of the Republican candidate to the committee. On the first ballot, Judge Schroth had the majority. The choice was then made unanimous. This was done to avoid the filing of more than one petition by Republicans.

Since the circuit judicial committees failed to make a call for the convention prior to May 21, no convention could be held to make a legal nomination, and the name of the candidate must therefore be put on the ticket by petition.

Judge Schroth is an esteemed resident of Tiffin and has previously held the office of common pleas judge in this sub-division of the Tenth judicial district.

Judge Schroth was authorized to name his own campaign committe. James W. Halfhill, of Lima, was re-elected chairman of the district committee and Willis Bacon, of Tiffin, was elected secretary. Halan F. Burket, of Findlay, was named as one of the members of the committee for Hancock county to succeed W. W. Chapman, who has moved away.

THE GRAIN CROP.

The speculative markets are just now considerably agitated by reports of impending damage to the wheat crop of the northwest. The yield in the eastern part of the winter belt is known to be phenomenally short and the western part promises but moderate results. Yet the trade has hoped that the Northwest, having had an abundance of moisture so far, would make good the shortage elsewhere. But it is said that excessively high temperatures have altered the outlook and some experts begin to talk of a total crop that would imply something like famine. For the reserves have been drawn down to the vanishing point and a moderate crop in the Northwest would create a crisis which could be relieved only by lifting prices high enough to bring in foreign wheat, despite the duty of twenty-five cents per bushel

This is a serious feature of the political and financial situation. For there can be no doubt that the dearness of food is one of the prime causes of the general unrest The dearness of food prevents the average household from saving on the normal scale and the markets are thus deprived of the fresh capital they must have, if the government and the corporations are to be financed with any approach to ease. Unfortunately, wheat is not the only crop disquiets the optimists. By all accounts, corn is unusually backward and is, therefore, especially subject to accidents. Not till the end of September can we hope for decisive data from the fields.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

AN INSANE MAN IS APPREHENDED

Man Missing from Dayton Is Located at Caledonia.

"Save me, save me," cried a wild-eyed man as he stood as though transfixed on the Big Four railroad tracks at Caledonia, Wednesday He kept crying for help, though he did not seem to be trying to move. Two men ran to him. He said that a mob was after him and was going to lynch him He appeared to be helpless. He was taken to the lock-up, where letters in his pockets revealed his identity. He is George Schnabel, of Dayton, who disappeared from his home several days ago. He is believed to have walked many miles.

Marshal Philip Meister telephoned to the man's relatives in Dayton, and a brother came after the unfortunate man that evening.

BOLD HOLD-UP IS REPORTED TO POLICE

By Homer Cowan, a Resident of Delaware.

SAYS THAT TWO MEN TOUCH HIM FOR ROLL

After Enticing Him To Take a Walk with Them—William Burke and R. C. Gibson Are Arrested, Appear in Court and Plead Not Guilty to Charge Made Against Them.

Homer Cowan, of Delaware, reported to the police late Tuesday night, that he had been touched for his roll of $65. Cowan gave a description of the two fellows who assaulted him, and took his money, and a short time later Officers McColly and Shrock arrested William Burke and R. C. Gibson on suspision of being the guilty parties.

Cowan stated to the officers that he came to Marion to see his wife away on a Big Four train, and was waiting for a car to return to Delaware. He was asked by the two fellows to take a little walk, and having seen them but a short time, walked north on State street. At a point between Farming and Mark streets, one of the fellows took Cowan's wallet from his hip pocket, removed the money and replaced the wallet before Cowan had a chance to know what was going on. One of the fellows then struck Cowan in the mouth and they made their getaway.

Cowan appeared Wednesday and was satisfied that Burke and Gibson were the guilty parties, stating that the one had called the other by name during the hold-up. He filed affidavits against them charging them with assault and robbery.

When arraigned before the mayor Burke and Gibson were represented by Attorney W. P Moloney. They entered pleas of not guilty to the charge against them, and were placed under a bond of $200 each for their appearance next Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

CATHERINE CONE SEEKS A DIVORCE

From Second Husband Who She Marries Last Year.

SEEKS RESTORATION TO FORMER NAME

Makes Allegations of Cruelty and Idleness Against Her Husband. Asks That Her Husband Be Barred from Any Interest in Her Property—Court News.

Catherine Cone, a grandmother, through Attorney Louis E. Myers, brought an action for a divorce from David A. Cone, her second husband, in the court of common pleas Wednesday. She asks to be restored to her former name of Greenbaum.

The plaintiff claims that she was married to the defendant, October 12, 1911, and since that time he has only purchased for her "one pair of shoes, a cheap dress and a cheap hat." She says that she has been compelled "to go out and work" in order to maintain herself and children by a former marriage.

January 9, last, the plaintiff says her husband deserted her "after the provisions for their winter's living had been exhausted," but returned March 6, when he learned that she had replenished their store by her labor." He promised to do better, according to the wife, but only worked four weeks, passing the most of his time in, abusing her and severely punishing her two children by her first husband and a grandchild living with her.

The plaintiff's grandchild is one year older than her youngest child of four.

The plaintiff says she is the owner of lots Nos. 4832, 4833 and 4790 in the Prairie Lawn addition to Marion. She asks that her husband be barred from any interest in her property.

Through Scofield & Durfee, Edith B. Hill has brought a suit for alimony against Ray S Hill. They have one daughter, aged four years.

The Hills were married November 6, 1907, since which time, the wife says her husband, has not provided her with a home, but took her to the home of his parents near Caledonia to live. April 22, she says, she was compelled to leave because she was required to do all the household work, washing and mending for the entire family. She was never permitted to have any company, she says, and when she desired to invite any one to the house she was informed that it was not her house.

SECOND EXPLOSION IN CADEBY MINE

Party of Rescuers Is Overcome by the Fumes in Pit.

Newcastle, Eng., July 10.—An explosion occurred today in the shaft of the Cadeby colliery at Conisborough, Yorkshire, where seventy-four persons were killed in a series of gas blasts Tuesday. Today's accident came at a time when a party of rescuers was working in the pit and many of the party were overcome by fumes and were carried to the surface unconscious.

King George, who is visiting at the estate of the Earl of Fitzwilliam, and who visited Cadeby mine Monday, today inquired solicitously after those wounded in the series of explosions.

While he is visiting in the north coal mining country the king is anxious to inquire into conditions surrounding miners in their work and home life.

BANK CASHIER UNDER ARREST

Waterford Man Covers Draft for His Brother and Is Jailed.

Marietta, O., July 10.—Charged with being short in his accounts $6,000, Harry Crooks, cashier of the Waterford Commercial & Savings bank, Washington county, was arrested and placed in jail in this city last night. According to Crooks, the shortage is the result of covering a draft for his brother, J. Clinton Crooks, said to be identified with State Auditor Fullington and former Secretary of State Carmi A. Thompson in the ownership of Mexican property.

Accusation was brought by the state department of banking.

AN ATTEMPT MADE TO PREVENT SPLIT

West Virginia Republicans Have Some Difficulties.

Charleston, W. Va., July 10.—A stormy session of the Republican state committee was begun here today to save the state ticket. Dr. H. D. Hatfield, no imenenor WBWds H Hatfield, nominee for governor, announced he would resign if the split in the party nationally is allowed to disrupt the state party. If the committee finds the electors favor Roosevelt, as is claimed, plans will be made to nominate electors pledged to Taft.

RICHWOOD HORSEMEN PULL DOWN PURSES

Their Nags Make Good Showings the Past Week.

COP OUT THE PRIZES WHEREVER THEY START

People of the Union County Town Are Hospitable—Entertain Their Friends at a Number of Affairs. Four Brothers Hold a Reunion. Notes and News of Village.

Richwood, O., July 8.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hoskins delightfully entertained a company of their friends Thursday, the Fourth of July, at their summer home, the Hamilton farm, just north of Richwood. The time was passed very enjoyably on the spacious porches and on the lawn under the beautiful trees. At the noon hour dinner was served and the afternoon was given over to social enjoyment. Their guests included the following: Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Packard, Miss Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sechrist, Miss Jane Sechrist, of Columbus; Miss and Mrs. George E. Whitney and Constance Bailey, of Delaware; Mr. daughters, Misses Kathryn, Mary and Helen, of Marysville; Mr. and E. R. Graham and sons, Wiltsie Robert, of Richwood. Numbered among the guests were the members of the Lima state hospital commission, of which Mr. Hoskins is president, the other members being Mr. Packard, architect; Mr. Sechrist, secretary, and Mr. Whitney, treasurer.

Master Robert Stout was the victim of an accident the Fourth of July. In firing a cannon cracker, the little fellow's hand was painfully burned. Dr. S. J. Bown dressed the injured member.

Neal Doty, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doty, has been dangerously ill of a complication of diseases resulting from whooping cought, but is slowly improving.

A very delightful reunion of four brothers was held Thursday at the home of Dr. S. J. Bown and family, of west Ottawa street. The guests from a distance were Dr. H. H. Bown, of Pleasant City; F. S. Bown, of Charleston, West Virginia, and Ernest S. Bown, of Marysville. They spent the day very pleasantly. Dr. H. H. Bown will leave in a few days for Quebec, Canada, visiting in Ashtabula, Buffalo and Niagara Falls enroute. He will sail from Quebec for Liverpool, and will remain in London until next spring for a course of study.

Mrs. W. W. Carr and daughter, Florence, and Mrs. Lydia Louvisa and daughter, Vera, of La Rue, were the guests Thursday of Mrs. Carr's sister, Mrs. Warren Braithwaite, and family.

Richwood race horses made quite a showing the past week at the races in various cities. At the Fourth of July races at Bellefontaine, Harry Tallman won the 2:19 trot in three straight heats, with Lady Alverston, 2:18¼; E. E. Ledley's Billy King was fourth in his race. At Dayton, M. B. Koffroth was only fourth with Little Harry, in the 2:13 pace. J. H. Wellwood won at Mt. Victory with his pacer, Ben Directly. All these horses received their training on the Richwood track.

Miss Ethelyn Mather, of Akron, has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Anne Mather, during the past week. She will also be the guest of Miss Opal Miller during her visit in Richwood.

The large plate glass front, which was blown from the Sanders building, occupied by the postoffice, during the severe storm of June 13, was replaced a few days ago.

The wreck of the engine on Erie train No. 16, Thursday noon, at Peoria, caused great disappointment to a large number of Richwood people. Nearly 100 persons were waiting to take the train for Marion, to attend the carnival and celebrate the Fourth. On account of the engine leaving the track, the train was delayed nearly three hours and many gave up their trip to Marion. Others made the trip in automobiles.

Misses Lois Langstaff and Letha Tracy entertained the children of south Fulton street at a picnic Thursday afternoon on the lawn at the Tracy home. The hours were spent very happily and a fine picnic luncheon was served. As a surprise to the children, Mrs. Tracy served ice-cream after the luncheon. Those present were Ruth and Gorby Stallsmith, Lucille and Dorothy Scheitzer, Eugene and Margaret Alona Hill, Lucille Biddle, Paul and Loretta Scharf, Charles and Edna Fuller, Gwin Sanders, Lelah Richards, Richard Langstaff, Harry and Thelma Allman.

Miss Pearl Crimm, of Akron, has been the guest of Miss Ethel Jolley, during the past week.

Roland Haines, of Ada, spent the past week as the guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Haines.

Misses Mildred Horn and Ethel Cheney were the guests, Wednesday, of friends in Columbus.

Miss Mary Lake, of Cleveland, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. F. Rapp, the past few days.

Charles Walters and Horace Gorby, of Rawson, have been the guests of J. F. Stallsmith and family, during the past week.

Miss Linnie Bright spent Wednesday and Thursday at her home in La Rue.

Mrs. Malvina Marriott and son, Charles, moved Wednesday into their new home, on the corner of Ottawa and Fulton streets.

Master Harold Jenkins, of Broadway, spent the past week as the guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Colver.

Mrs. Margaret Sayre has been quite ill, during the past week, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Snyder.

Findley Ford, of Broadway, visited his sister, Mrs. George Reidal, last week.

Mrs. Melissa Gill, of Marion, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Sisson Marriott, during the past several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lake and daughter, Miss Mary Lake, of Cleveland, who are spending several weeks in Richwood, their former home, went to Radnor, Thursday, to spend several days with John Pugh and family.

Miss Helen Smith, of Marion, who spent several days in Richwood, returned home, Thursday. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Louie Tennery and Mrs. O. T. Boggs, who spent a few days with the former's nephew, C. F. Smith, and family.

Ray Martin, of Inglis, Florida, arrived in Richwood, Thursday, to spend a month with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Martin.

John Martin, of Barberton, spent Thursday with his sister, Mrs. B. C. Humphreys and Miss Lizzie Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Miller and little daughter, spent Thursday with friends in Ostrander.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wallace, of Marion, were the guests, Thursday, of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Norris.

Mrs. Emma Adler returned to her home in Bellefontaine, Thursday, after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Drumm and Mr. and Mrs. John Adler.

Miss Ruth Hewitt left, Thursday, for Springfield, where she is taking a course in the summer school.

F. H. Mead, of Farmville, Virginia spent the past week with Edward Mead and family and other relatives here.

Mrs. Leota Miller spent the past week with Mrs. Frank Grim, of Green Camp.

Mrs. C. H. Rose spent Wednesday and Thursday in Marion, as the guest of her brother, N. B. Weaver, and wife. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Martha Weaver, who had spent several days in Marion.

Mrs. A. R. Leaverton and daughter, Gladys, of Green Camp, spent the Fourth of July with the former's father, J. F. Ledley.

Nearly every business house in Richwood was closed on the Fourth and the town was practically deserted. Hundreds of people went to Marion for the carnival, to Mt. Victory for the races, to Bellefontaine and the smaller towns for the baseball games. Very few fireworks were discharged and the village was very quiet throughout the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Martino, of Grove City, have been the guests of the former's brother, Nathan Martin, and family, during the past week.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mount, of Springfield, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jesse Dean, and family, during the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Porter and children arrived home, Friday night, from Russell's Point, in the Lewistown reservoir, where they enjoyed an outing of three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Martino are spending a few days with relatives in Circleville.

Mrs. E. A. Schambs and children arrived home, Friday, from Russell's Point, where they enjoyed an outing of several days.

Miss Elizabeth James left, Friday, for Granville, where she will spent several days with friends.

Mrs. Emma Gaston, of La Rue, spent several days as the guest of Mrs. A. N. La Rue, returning home Thursday. She was accompanied as far as Marion by Mrs. La Rue and both spent the day at White Oaks farm.

Lillian Hive, No. 184, Ladies of the Maccabees, held a well-attended meeting, Friday evening, and aside from the routine work, initiated a class of five candidates. The work was done by the home team. At the conclusion of the business session, a very delightful social hour was enjoyed and ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. R. D. Roberts was hostess to the Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. P. church, Friday afternoon. At the conclusion of the business session, the members planned to give a tea in the church parlors, Wednesday evening, July 10, each member to invite ten guests.

Mrs. John Collier and children left, Saturday, for Wadsworth, where they will make their home. Mr. Collier has been employed for some time as telegraph operator by the Erie railroad in that city.

Milton Shipley, of Toledo, spent Thursday with relatives in Richwood, his former home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Blair and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Blair motored to Bellefontaine, Thursday, to attend the races.

Mrs. H. A. Frantz spent Thursday and Friday at her home in Delaware.

E. R. Graham, of Chicago, visited his family at their summer home in Richwood, during the past week.

Miss Grace Sifritt, of Marion, was the guest Friday, of her grandmother Mrs. M. J. Mather.

To Go to Iowa.

The remains of George Mercer, the infant son of Rev. and Mrs. George M. Rourke, who died June 25, were removed from the vault in the Marion cemetery Monday morning and were taken to Sac City, Iowa, the former home of the parents where interment was made.

MARION C. PATTERSON SUCCUMBS TO INJURY

Received in an Auto Accident Late Saturday Afternoon.

JOSEPH FRANKLIN PAINFULLY INJURED

As They Alight from Left Hand Side of a Street Car on East Center Street, They Are Hit by Auto, Which Turns Out To Avoid Auto and Other Passengers.

Marion C. Patterson, aged fifty-seven, a carpenter residing at No. 259 north Seffner avenue, was mortally injured, and Joseph Franklin, aged about thirty, a machinist and Patterson's neighbor, was hurt by a big automobile as they alighted from a Center street car at Seffner avenue on their way from work, Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Patterson died half an hour later in the Marion City hospital as a result of a fracture at the base of the brain. Franklin, badly bruised and shaken, as a result of being hurled to the pavement, was able to walk to his home, where Dr. C. T. Wiant later attended him.

The automobile, owned by Frank A. Huber, was being driven by Frank Johnson, chaffeur. He was so badly frightened following the collision that Clifford Harvey drove the machine back to the Huber garage.

In Same Direction.

Johnson was driving east, the same direction the car was going. He undertook to pass the car when it stopped at Seffner avenue to let off passengers. He had been on the right side, but swung to the left or north side because of two other automobiles being on the south side. Just as he was about to go around the car, Patterson and Franklin stepped off. Patterson had his face turned toward Franklin. He was saying something and smiling when dashed to his death.

The back of Patterson's head struck the brick pavement. Franklin was caught by one of the machine's fenders and thrown to one side.

Mrs. Anna Knapp and Miss Freda Bickel, housekeeper and maid at the Huber home, screamed when the car struck the men. Their screams warned Clyde Blair, who stepped back just in time to escape injury. Mrs. Knapp and Miss Bickel were enroute to Kensington place to prepare some chickens for a Sunday dinner when the accident occurred.

The street car, contrary to report, had no guard rail on the left side at the time. It was in charge of Conductor Vandegraffe and Motorman Sim Garrett.

Car Moving Slowly.

Dr. James Wilson McMurray, who, with his father-in-law, Jonas Conklin, witnessed the accident from the porch of the Conklin home, No. 1009 east Center street, says the Huber chaffeur was not driving rapidly at the time. He had almost stopped his car, he says, because another eastbound machine was directly in front of him, while another small auto was standing on the south side of the street in front of the house of J. D. Beers.

Believing it would be safer to pass the car on the opposite side, Johnson drove across the tracks to the north side. As he started around the street car, he little realized that passengers would alight on the very side he had taken to escape, he thought, all danger of accident.

Had the car carried a rail on the north side, street car men say, the accident would not have been avoided. They say passengers have a habit of lifting the rail, or of stooping under it, if they happen to want off on the side the rail is on.

Crowd Gathers.

Within a few minutes after the accident, a crowd gathered. Dr. McMurray, still very week from a serious operation, had hurried across the street and examined Patterson's injuries. Blood streaming from his ears indicated a fracture at the base of the skull.

Franklin, who had been carried to a lawn on the north side of the street with Patterson, was dazed only for a few minutes. He will be able to return to work within a few days.

Hess & Markert's ambulance was summoned and the mortally injured man was rushed to the hospital, where Drs. H. L. Uhler and M. S. Newhouse attended him. He died on the operating table as a daughter, Mrs. Elmer F. Leffler, of east Center street, was ascending the hospital steps.

Mrs. Patterson, the dead man's wife, was at Deshler, Henry county, where she had gone to attend the funeral of John Grubb, a brother-in-law, who was killed two weeks ago. She arrived home, Sunday morning.

Wife Is Wired.

From Deshler Mrs. Patterson was to have gone to Findlay to visit relatives before returning home.

Judge William S. Spencer, whose wife is a sister of Mrs. Patterson, telegraphed to her at Findlay, Saturday night. He did not tell her that her husband was dead, but said that he had been badly hurt and to come home at once.

Another message was sent to Deshler relatives at the same time to the effect that Mr. Patterson had been killed in an automobile accident. This message was telephoned to the house, where Mrs. Patterson was still visiting, and she learned the terrible truth before the Findlay message, intended to soften the blow, had been forwarded to her at Deshler.

On the day of Mr. Grubb's funeral, Mrs. Spencer, of this city, as her head was bowed in grief and her eyes were closed, had a premonition that another family tragedy was soon to occur. She saw a vision of a funeral wreath and opened her eyes to see if one like it were at the bier of Mr. Grubb, but none similar was to be seen. She related her experience to Mrs. Patterson and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Leffler.

Feared Something Dreadful.

"When the telephone bell rang I knew something dreadful had happened at home," Mrs. Patterson told relatives here, Sunday.

Mr. Patterson had lived in Marion about seven years, coming here from Deshler. He was employed by the Marion Steam Shovel company and held in the highest esteem by his employers and all who knew him. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias lodges at Deshler. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Josephine Monthaven, whom he married at Deshler in 1887; two children, Mrs. Leffler, and Miss Ethel Patterson; his aged mother, Mrs. James Patterson, of Deshler, and two sisters, Mrs. William Gregg, of Newark, and Mrs. Albert Long, of Deshler.

John Grubb, Mr. Patterson's brother-in-law, met death at Lima when teaching a new interurban car motorman how to put on a displaced trolley pole. In some manner he received a heavy voltage and died in a Lima hospital, the remains later being taken to Deshler for burial.

Following funeral services at the late residence, Monday evening at 7:30, the remains of Mr. Patterson were shipped to Deshler, where funeral services proper were held at the M. E. church, of which he was a member, Tuesday morning at 10:30. Interment followed in Woodlawn cemetery.

THE MOOSE MAKE $400 ON CARNIVAL

Members Are Greatly Pleased Over the Success of Affair.

"The Smith Greater Shows" departed in their special train of ten cars for Van Wert, Sunday, and the local Loyal Order of Moose is about $400 to the good as a result of last week's carnival on Prospect street, between Church and Mill streets.

"The weatherman was kind to us," declared a member of the order in speaking of carnival week. "He scared us half to death several times, but each night he would put in the plug and we had a big attendance every night."

The Moose quoted, a member of the committee which had charge of the affair, added that it had been the cleanest and best carnival he had ever seen. He continued:

"To begin with, we were threatened with an injunction suit by a certain Prospect street resident, but when we convinced him that the carnival was strictly clean, he decided not to enjoin us. We have heard no one complaining, and believe that the people got their money's worth. Mr. Smith's shows are all that they are represented to be, and the Loyal Order of Moose is exceptionally well pleased with results."

The money secured will be used in various ways to boost the order, which is comparatively new in this city.

RAYMOND YOCHEM DROWNED AT GALION

Lad Is Bathing in Reservoir at the Time of Accident.

Raymond, aged twelve, son of Andrew Yochem, of north Liberty street, was drowned in the new Big Four reservoir, at about 2:30 Friday afternoon.

Raymond was in bathing, near the north shore, and was riding on a plank. He was unable to swim, and when he reached a spot where the water is about eight feet deep, the plank turned, throwing him into the water.

Floyd Sheehe, a companion, was on the shore and saw the Yochem boy sink three times and disappear. Sheehe can not swim, and was unable to help the drowning boy, although he shouted lustily for help.

The drowning soon attracted a large crowd and boys went out in a skiff and attempted to locate the body. Later on members of the fire department arrived with hooks and ropes and the search for the body was renewed.

The body was recovered at 4 o'clock, and taken in the ambulance to the Herbold undertaking establishment.—Galion Inquirer.

EXPRESS PACKAGES SOLD BY COMPANY

They Are Held One Year and Are Not Claimed by Owners.

Two big wagon loads of express packages, held by the Adams Express company for one year, and not called for by people to whom they were addressed, were sold at auction in front of the courthouse Saturday. The auction was conducted by J. Austin Reed, and was largely attended. One man bid in a box for eighty-five cents and got a set of brass weights and measures, valued at $50 or $75. Another man bought a big pasteboard box, that looked like it might contain a woman's hat, and got a lot of tissue paper and Easter eggs.

Auctioneer Reed did not experience much difficulty in disposing of the articles, usually at a fair price. He successfully aroused the curiosity of his audience, and men bought to satisfy that curiosity. Women were not noticeable in the crowd.

FOR THOSE WHO WISH TO TEACH

Questions for Applicants for County Certificates.

THE EXAMINATIONS ARE HELD JULY 6

Questions Prepared by the State School Commissioner To Test the Mental Qualities of Those Who Seek Positions as Teachers in the Public Schools.

Following is the list of questions as prepared under direction of the state commissioner of public schools, and submitted at the county examination for teachers July 6, for elementary school certificates:

ARITHMETIC.

1. A rectangular field is 60 rods long and 40 rods wide. Find the width of a similar field 75 rods long.

2. In an invoice of 4 dozen crates of oranges, 10% are decayed. If there is an average of 8 dozen oranges to a crate, how many oranges are spoiled?

3. A grocer buys sugar at 7 1-2 cents a pound. He puts it up in bags of 3 1-2 pounds each. At what price per bag must he sell it to gain 26-7%?

4. How many pads, 80 sheets each, 5 3-4"x9", can be made from 4000 sheets 18"x23"?

5. Considering that the earth is 25,000 miles in circumference at the equator, how many miles are there in one degree of longitude at the equator?

6. A agreed to work a year for $96.00 and 100 bushels of potatoes. At the end of 9 months he settled by accepting $76.00 and 67 bushels of potatoes. If this were an equitable settlement, find value of the potatoes per bushel.

7. On a note for $1200, dated April 16, 1907, payable on demand, with interest at 4 1-2%, payments were made as follows: June 15, 1907, $500; June 18, 1907, $200. What was due at settlement Sept. 16, 1907?

To the little brown leaf below:
What a summer we've had
To rejoice and be glad.
But today there's a feeling of snow.

6. Parse the italicized words in number five.

7. Write sentences illustrating all the words that may be used as expletives.

8. Write the active and passive conjugation of "see," in the future and future perfect tenses, indicative mode.

WRITING.

Write the following quotation as a specimen of your best penmanship.

We count the broken lyres that rest
Where the sweet wailing singers slumber.
But o'er ther silent sister's breast
The wild-flowers who will stoop to number?
A few can touch the magic string,
And noisy fame is proud to win them:
Alas for those that never sing,
But die with all their music in them.
—HOLMES.

Columbus, O., July 8.—Ohio corn has joined wheat on the toboggan, according to a crop bulletin issued by the state board of agriculture today. The condition of that serial is put at seventy-seven per cent. of a full average.

Wheat shows a furt hrdretopomh

Wheat shows a further drop of two points from June 1 and is now placed as to prospect at only forty-three per cent.

Oats is the redeeming cereal with a prospect of ninety-eight per cent.

Clover was injured three per cent. by grubs, while timothy was placed at seventy-nine per cent.

WILL BE CONVERTED INTO SPEED STABLE

To Such Use Part of Amphitheater Will Be Put.

CONTRACT FOR JOB IS LET SATURDAY

For $275, Andrew Baldauf Will Move North Part of Structure to East Side of Track and for $88 More He Will Place Concrete Piers Under It.

The amphitheater at the fairground is to be cut in two and 150 feet off the north end moved to the east side of the track and converted into a speed stable of thirty box stalls. Fifty feet of it will be allowed to remain where it is now located and will be used this fall as a grandstand, as it is declared to be in good condition.

The contract for moving the 150 feet of the structure, and cutting it down from thirty feet to twelve feet in height, was awarded to Andrew Baldauf for $275 at a meeting of the Marion County Agricultural society's executive committee Saturday afternoon. Mr. Baldauf was also awarded the contract for constructing sixty-three concrete piers, on which the speed barn will be placed, for $88. The piers will be two feet square, one foot above ground and eighteen inches in the ground.

Secretary Roscoe Oborn reported that only one of the fifty-six entries in the $1,000 pacing and trotting stakes had been declared "out" after paying the initial entry fee of one per cent. of the 2:14 pace. The horse withdrawn was King Conqueror, owned by the Coleman stock farm, near Findlay. This horse was declared "out" of the entry list last week when the second installment became due on the entry fee, which has been fixed by the fair management at three per cent. of the $1,000 stake. The third and last installment will be due Thursday, August 1, but Secretary Oborn reported that he did not think there would be any more withdrawals in view of the fact that all of the owners of the remaining horses entered have paid two installments.

Thirty-two horses are now entered in the trotting stake and twenty-three in the pacing stake.

SPECULATION AS TO CAUSE OF ACCIDENT

Which Resulted in the Death of Charles Schneider Saturday.

That Charles B. Schneider was coasting on his motorcycle across the railroad tracks on Greenwood street when he was dashed to death, Saturday at the noon hour, is the belief of George Orians and other employes of the Huber shop.

Schneider crossed the tracks every day and usually shut off the gas of his engine to lessen the jar of the tracks. Experienced motorcyclists believe that he saw the speeding express too late to stop and turned on the gas to his engine in an effort to get across. The result was, many mortorcyclists believe, his engine choked down because of a too strong flow of the gas at once, and he was compelled to use the pedals in trying to escape death.

Miss Laura Bowen and Walter Eckfeld, employes of the Huber office, narrowly escaped Schneider's fate. They got across the tracks barely in time. Miss Bowen almost collapsed. Two hundred workmen were at the crossing, or near it, at the time of the tragedy.

Funeral services for Mr. Schneider were held at the late residence, No. 503 east George street, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment followed in the Marion cemetery.

CHARLES KLING IS GIVEN HIS LIBERTY

Agrees To Settle with Grocers and Pay the Costs.

Charles Kling, a piano finisher, who was arrested several days ago on a charge of obtaining money by false pretense, was given his liberty by Justice Chas. W. Haberman, Saturday. Kling gave John D. Wise & Son, grocers, an order for $20 and then drew his money before the order could be presented. When arrested, he waived examination and was held to the grand jury, but the justice told him he would let him remain in jail a few days to think it over before binding him over. Kling changed his mind. Saturday morning he pleaded guilty and was given a suspended sentence of sixty days in the Dayton workhouse. He promised to settle with the grocers and to pay the costs of the action. If he does not do as he has agreed, Justice Haberman says he will enforce the sentence.

CARROLL & GRUBER SUCCESSFUL BIDDERS

They Will Build Two Pikes in Marion County.

Carroll & Gruber were the low bidders for the construction of the Retterer and Firstenberger pikes located in Richland township, bidsfor which were opened in the office of County Surveyor George E. Dwyer, Saturday. The contractors' bid on the Retterer pike was $4,070 and the estimated cost was $5,217. Their bid on the Firstenberger pike was $6,087 and the engineer's estimate was $6,525. The Retterer pike is one mile and a quarter long and the Firstenberger pike about two miles in length.

CHAIRMAN C. D. HILLES TO MANAGE CAMPAIGN

No Republican in all the land can find any fault with the selection of C. D. Hilles for chairman of the national committee, which is to manage President Taft's campaign for re-election. Mr. Hilles is clean, discerning, tactful and forceful. No man in all the country better knows the conscience of the Taft administration. As secretary to the president, he is in intimate touch with all that has been done and all that the president has aimed to do. In that same capacity, he has gotten into touch and understanding acquaintance with Republican leaders of the nation, and has left the impress of his capacity and personality upon them.

Mr. Hilles, Dewey Hilles is the way Ohioans know him best, has made rapid strides to national acquaintance and esteem. Ten years ago he was superintendent of the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster His habit of doing everything well and his ability to initiate and inaugurate in that institution, has hurried him forward to the highest responsibility in Republican national politics Good old Governor Nash, who esteemed Hilles very highly used to sigh and say, "Oh, if I only had a Dewey Hilles in charge of every state institution."

Mr. Hilles was so good that Ohio could not long hold him at the limited salary the state would pay. He was summoned to New York to build up a similar institution, supported by philanthropists, and in that work succeeded notably. Meanwhile, he maintained his interest in Republican success, and contributed so much to the victory of 1908 in New York, that President Taft called him to federal service in the treasury department. The next promotion was the private secretaryship, and he proved himself full worthy of the confidence the president showed in choosing him. Position and success have broadened his view and developed his power, but have left him unspoiled.

Some of the things he said in accepting the responsibilities of the chairmanship reveal the man, and make timely Republican reading. We quote:

"The Republican party approaches the presidential campaign with confidence in the solemnity of its cause and in the integrity and ability of the candidates who represent that cause. Progress with order is good doctrine for the Republican party today, as it has been since the day of its birth.

"Real progress is not a theory, but an achievement. No American citizen should be deceived into an exchange of his birthright for a vision. The progress of the nation toward better things does not come from declamation, but from actual results. More has been accomplished in the last three years under the administration of President Taft than was ever before accomplished by an American president in the same period of time.

"A distinct line of demarkation between the Republican party and the Democratic party is revealed in the platforms adopted at Chicago and Baltimore. One is an earnest of future progress through a record of achievement; the other is a promise containing a denial of the good that has been done.

"Upon the solid rock of the rights of the individual as granted by the constitution, the Republican party builds its structure of optimism."

It is good to have a chairman who is optimistic. This country needs a blessing of optimism, an awakening to appreciation, and a consecration to preservation. The Republicans have a young chieftain, but a stalwart and courageous and knowing campaign leader. There is no defeat in the lexicon of C. D. Hilles.

THE SORRY SPECTACLE OF THE OFFICE HOLDERS.

About the silliest, most senseless lot of political dope—there is no other word to so well express it—which has found its way into the press in this year of political senselessness, is the proposed appeal of the office-holders and office-seekers to President Taft to withdraw, in order that their precious jobs may be retained, or their election made sure.

It is a sample of the political tendencies of the times. It has its counterpart in the Third party movement, the sole inspiration of which is to restore Colonel Roosevelt to power and bestow federal jobs upon Jimmie Garfield and Pinchot and the clamorous outs, who prate about principle, but have their hearts set on pap. It is the same spirit that moved Woodrow Wilson to turn against all his teachings and writings, during the vigorous years of his life, and pick up the propositions of passing popularity to make the ascent to power. These distressed and doubting office-seekers and office-holders are not concerned about principles or reforms. They are anxious about their jobs, unmindful of the party that has bestowed favors upon them, and inconsiderate of the man who leads the party that put them in office.

The office-holders, who are worth while, are secure as need be. The others ought to know something of the risks and rewards of politics. If they are Republicans worthy of the name, let them join in the campaign to re-elect President Taft. Their whining and knocking makes them unworthy. If political gratitude has ceased to be, there isn't much left to inspire organization and effort, and it will be well to let the yelpers yelp outside the public service.

Herein is the whole trouble with the Republican party just now. There are too many who are Republicans for office or revenue only. Half the fights in the congressional districts of Ohio, against President Taft, were inspired by petty postoffice fights or other rows over patronage. Here in Marion, we read recently—and the article seemed properly inspired—the campaign committee will be organized with a view to controlling appointments. What an inspiration to go out and battle for victory!

The Pennsylvania fight, headed by Bill Flinn in the name of progressivism—never a name so abused and misused!—was not for principle, it was for pap and plunder. It was so in Michigan, and Indiana and Kentucky and Illinois. The hyprocrisy of the thing will soon make itself manifest and along with it will come weariness over the big Bull Moose being the whole thing for all this great people Then will come the sober, second thought. The people will understand that really big and important issues are at stake. Governor Wilson has himself said that the tariff is the big issue, and so it is. If the people, after realizing and reflecting, want Democracy to knock out the protective prop that has elevated us to industrial preeminence, let them vote for a tariff for revenue only and the unfailing disaster that has attended every like attempt in our history.

President Taft stands for something. He is more than the defender of a rationalized and modernized protective tariff, founded on the unbiased and disinterested reports of a non-partisan tariff board. He stands for constitutional, representative government, and his renomination was the answer of thinking Republicans to the opportunists and the promoters of menacing hero-worship and greed for power. He is a president of conscience, capacity and courage, was renamed as cleanly and fairly as Colonel Roosevelt was named, or as he himself was first named by Colonel Roosevelt and his influence. There are some abuses in southern representation in Republican national conventions, there was at Chicago this year And these will never be wholly eliminated until the basis of representation is changed. No system is perfect, but the Chicago verdict was just. President Taft is rightly and honestly the Republican candidate, because men, with party interest and party honor at heart, could not be beaten by bluff and bluster and bull moosing. He stands for all that inspires Republicanism worthy of the name. The whimperings of a sorry lot of place-seekers will avail naught The threat of a third party will not deter nor dismay. Real Republicans are going forth to do battle for President Taft and the party, and in spite of the passing discouragements of the hour and day, we expect them to win.

HARMON AND FINLEY AND THE BROKEN TIE

Severe criticism of Governor Harmon for not reappointing Bill Finley to the oil inspectorship is wholly uncalled for. Finley held the job wholly as a mark of the governor's political favor, and Finley lacked the gratitude to support his chief's presidential ambitions. No one need imagine Politics Bill supported Governor Wilson as a matter of principle. He figured Wilson for the winner, which is added proof of the Finley perception, and opposed his benefactor in looking for future reward, and will get it if Wilson should be elected. But he was an ingrate to his chief, the man who put him in a good position, and no self-respecting governor will reward ingratitude.

Of course Governor Harmon owed something to Finley, for Finley was the chief trickster in a tricky campaign But he paid. He made him oil inspector, when Finley bore the accusation of grafting, against which Harmon waged his campaign. The criticism of Governor Harmon should be aimed at the original appointment of Finley. Finley had made a harvest of illegal fees, openly and officially and repeatedly charged against him, and none is recovered to this day. He was the prize specimen of insincerity in the anti-graft campaign But all that was fol-de-rol The sincerity of the governor and his oil inspector were on a par. Bill helped the governor and the governor rewarded Bill. Accounts were square. So when Bill's time was out, and Bill had severed the tie of Democratic fraternity and reciprocity, the governor did what any sensible, self-respecting executive would do, he let Finley slide, and decided to give the people of Ohio an oil inspector in accordance with his campaign talk. It is nearly two years late, but it has been a busy time for the last twelve months, and circumstances were not helpful before. There is no use to grieve over Bill Finley. Bill used the governor and the governor used him. When Bill couldn't be longer used—wasn't available so to speak—the tie was cut. It was natural, and nothing reprehensible about it. Bill will expect due reward under the Wilson reformation If it ever comes, he will get it, for Bill is a reformer and a patriot.

The problem of housing people who want to find homes in Marion is up for solution, right now. We have plenty of room and plenty of money for construction. The big necessity is the determination to do. If Marion is not reasonably equal to the demand, we are not all we have been boasting.

BIG CISTERN ON THE COURTHOUSE SQUARE

Will Be Repaired, Filled and Kept for Emergency Purposes.

The big cistern, which is under the sidewalk and the yard in front of the courthouse, was examined to see if it would hold water. There was some water in the cistern, all the overflow from the fountain flowing into it. The only thing that will have to be done to make the cistern as good as formerly is to fill up the hole that was knocked in one end years ago to let the water out. As soon as the well is repaired it will be filled with water The examination was made by Fire Chief T. J. McFarland.

ROASTING-EARS TWO WEEKS AWAY

The Rains of the Past Two Weeks Hold Them Back.

The rains during the past two weeks have greatly benefited the products of Marion county, but roasting-ears have not made their appearance except for some that were shipped in. The cob corn was expected by July 4, but it will be about two weeks before the home-grown corn makes its appearance, the crop being delayed by the recent cold spell. The raspberry and blackberry crop this year will be unusually heavy, according to reports from the farmers and gardeners.

CLAIMS AGGREGATING MORE THAN $600

Are Presented to Master Commissioner James H. Eymon

AT MEETINGS HELD WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Twenty-Five Claims Are Presented Against the Columbus, Marion & Bucyrus Railway Company, the Largest Being That of the Trust Company for $575,000

Claims aggregating more than $600,000 against the Columbus, Marion & Bucyrus railway company were presented at meetings held before Master Commissioner James H. Eymon in the common pleas court room Wednesday afternoon and Thursday.

Twtney-five claims were presented, the largest being that of the Trust company, of Troy, New York, trustees for the road's bonded debt. Its claim was for $575,000.

Thursday, George Whysall, one of the receivers of the road, appeared before the master commissioner and submitted a claim for $87,000 in bonds and interest.

John G. Webb, former president of the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Railway company and of the Columbus, Marion & Bucyrus Railway company presented a claim for $600 for payment of interest on bonds. The claim was presented in the form of a pleading, and Master Commissioner Eymon held that it was a matter for the courts, and not for him to determine.

James M. Webb, of Springfield, brother of John G. Webb, presented a claim of several thousand dollars for services rendered. Attorney Thomas Walker, of New York city, presented a claim of $500 for counsel fees.

A big fight between attorneys was precipitated when John A. Roebling & Sons' company, of Trenton, New Jersey, sought to have the claim passed upon. Attorneys representing the railway stockholders strenuously objected.

From the testimony submitted it appears that the Trenton company contracted to sell the trolley wire now in use by the company and the wire was delivered to the Columbus, Marion & Bucyrus Railway Construction company. However, the testimony showed that the wire used by the C., M. & B. road was not the wire contracted for.

A transcript of the evidence taken by Stenographer Charles C. Hoffman, of Upper Sandusky, will later be submitted to the master commissioner, who will then pass on the allowance of the claims.

Another meeting will be held in the near future, the date to be definitely determined, when the amount of the claim will be taken of the value of the franchises, rights-of-way, car-houses and all other assets.

Among those presenting claims were the Smith Brothers' company and Harry E. Smith, of Columbus, the Electric Railway Improvement company, the Advance Lumber company, and the Fairbanks, Morse Company, of Cleveland; the Continuum Company of America, Pittsburgh; the Bailey, Banks & Biddle company, of Philadelphia; the Peter Beer and the Hopley Printing company, of Bucyrus; M. Clary & Son, Burke and Scofield & Durfee, of Marion; C C Dunlap, of Delaware; the Lewis Corrugated Culvert company, of Elyria; W. H. McCluskey, of Springfield; the Ohio Brass company, of Mansfield; the Pennsylvania Pittsburgh; Poole Brothers company, of Chicago; the Western Union Telegraph company and the Standard Oil company.

All of the above claims are comparatively small.

CHARLES B. SCHNEIDER MEETS DEATH SATURDAY

Motorcycle Rider Struck by an Erie Express Train.

HIS BODY IS HURLED HIGHER THAN COACHES

Almost Every Bone in the Body of the Unfortunate Victim Is Broken. Man Fails To Note the Approach of Fast-Moving Train—Leaves Widow and Child.

Charles B. Schneider, who would have been thirty-five years of age, three weeks from today, and who resides at No. 503 east George street, was instantly killed by being struck by the westbound Erie express train No. 9, at the Greenwood street crossing, at 12:35 Saturday afternoon. There were but few eye witnesses to the unfortunate accident.

Mr. Schneider, who was last week promoted to be superintendent in the stock department of the Marion Steam Shovel shops, was riding to his work on his motorcycle when the accident occurred. He left his home just as the 12.30 o'clock whistles blew, after kissing his wife and child goodby. He was riding slowly on his motorcycle, and according to Martin Jordan, the Big Four crossing watchman, was working with a button on his machine.

The victim of the accident was directly in the center of the track when the pilot of the engine struck the motorcycle and its rider. The machine was thrown to the south side of the track, a distance of about twenty-five feet, while Mr. Schneider was thrown through the air higher than the tops of the coaches, his body falling in the weeds a distance of seventy-five feet from where he was struck. Several witnesses of the accident rushed to where the body had fallen, but the man was dead, practically every bone in his body having been broken.

Train Moving Fast.

Several workers at the shops of the Huber company, stated that at the time the accident occurred the train was running at a speed of about fifty miles an hour, the train being about fifteen minutes late. The train did not come to a stop until it reached State street, after which the engineer backed up to the scene of the accident. The Hess & Markert ambulance was called and the body was removed to the morgue.

According to eye witnesses, the victim of the accident undoubtedly did not hear the approaching train, and it could not be seen until he was almost directly on the track. Witnesses state that they did not see nor hear a signal of the approaching train until it reached the crossing. Martin Jordan, the Big Four crossing watchman, was the only watchman on the street at the time, the Erie watchman having gone to his dinner. It is understood that the two crossing watchmen have been accustomed to watching for each other while one is at his meals, and this has been the subject of comment because the hours selected by them are usually when the traffis on the street is the heaviest.

An Effort to Save Man.

Martin Jordan stated that when he saw Schneider approaching he ran toward the Erie tracks, and made an effort to wave him back, but Schneider was busy fixing something on his motorcycle and failed to hear the warning.

The victim of the accident was a son of John Schneider, who committed suicide about seven years ago, and of Mrs. Gottleib Kohberger, of this city. Besides his widow, mother and two-year-old son, he is survived by three brothers, Fred, Joseph and William, of Detroit, and one sister, Mrs. Anna Zwicker, of this city. Mr. Schneider was the inventor of the one side passenger seat on motorcycles, and frequently took his wife and child riding with him. He was a member of the Epworth M. E. church, a man of excellent qualities, and had a host of friends in the city, who will regret to learn of his death.

FRANK MILLER IS HURT BY BICYCLIST

Is Run Down While on Way Home from Work Friday.

As the result of a collision with a bicycle, Frank Miller, a workman at the Huber Manufacturing shops, suffered two fractured ribs, a bad cut on his head, and his right arm was badly cut and bruised, Friday at 5:30 p. m. Mr. Miller was crossing Greenwood street on his way home from work, when P. E. Kennedy, another workman, ran him down with his bicycle at the corner of Greenwood and Quarry streets. Kennedy had come out of the north gate, and was going as fast as possible in order to cross the Erie tracks in front of a switch engine, drawing a cut of cars.

A number of men were crossing the street at the time, and Miller did not see him coming in time to get out of the way. He was knocked down, hitting his head on a pile of paving brick, and was unconscious for a few minutes. He was assisted to his home, on east Mark street, by some of the men. Dr. Robert Ramroth was called, and gave him proper attention. Kennedy's wheel was badly broken. Miller is sixty-five years of age.

FIELDS ARE FORGOTTEN WHILE HEARING IS HELD

Time-Worn Expression Gets Gillespie in Trouble.

AGOSTA MARSHAL OBJECTS TO COMMENT

Takes Young Man in Custody for Saying Arrest Is Made That Officer May Secure a Sack of Flour. Large Crowd Attends the Hearing. Gillespie Is Dismissed.

Friday afternoon, Agosta's town hall was crowded to the doors at the hearing of Gail Gillespie, twenty-one years old, charged with violating a village ordinance by using abusive language toward the town marshal. After hearing the testimony of six witness, on motion of Attorney Louis E. Myers, of Marion, Mayor George T. Nesbaum gave Gillespie his liberty.

Marshal William Carey was the prosecuting witness. July 4, the town's guardian of the peace had some difficulty with a celebrator, who was in his cups. He arrested him and Gillespie, a bystander, protested.

In small towns, when the marshal makes an arrest the remark is frequently heard that he made it to get a sack of flour. Among other remarks made by Gillespie, this was alleged to have been made by him, something in this fashion: "I suppose you'll arrest him because you want a sack of flour."

Gillespie meant that by making the arrest the marshal would get enough in fees to purchase the flour.

Marshal Carey did not like Gillespie's freshness and arrested him, filing an affidavit against him in the mayor's court. His hearing was set for Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The news spread over town that Gail Gillespie had been arrested for abusing the marshal because he had used the time-worn "sack-of-flour" accusation. Every inch of space in the town hall was occupied, and the open windows were jammed by Gillespie's relatives, friends and enemies.

Attorney Myers, representing the youthful prisoner, made a forceful argument for the dismissal of the case, and the mayor did not hesitate about dismissing it when the attorney had concluded.

The crowd whooped and hurried for the exits.

INCREASE CAPACITY OF CHAUTAUQUA TENT

Five Hundred More Chairs Will Be Provided For.

The Chautauqua management has arranged with the makers of its new assembly tent to add a section which will give room for 500 additional chairs. These added seats will be quite as good as the reserved section, but none of them will be reserved. They will be free to the first to come and secure them. The reserved section is all sold, and the management is now giving every effort to acceptably accommodate the crowds that promise attendance.

Season tickets will be on sale for one week more at the $1.50 price. It is hoped all pledges will be redeemed within the coming week. Pledge cards may be taken up at the Chautauqua desk at Strayer's drug store.

CHARLES M. POWERS HAS HORSE KILLED

The Result of a Collision with a Street Car.

A vehicle owned by Charles M. Powers, a local liveryman, was badly damaged and the horse was injured to such an extent that it died, as the result of a collision with a street car on west Center street in front of the Sun theater, Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Mr. Powers, who was driving, suffered an injury to his right shoulder.

Just previous to the accident Powers had stopped in front of the theater to get checks, in order to get some baggage at the union station. He had just started for the station and in crossing the tracks the street car dashed into the outfit before a stop could be made.

Company Incorporated.

The Markert China Store company was incorporated with an authorized capital stock of $9,000, in Columbus Friday. Mrs. Louise Markert is the principal incorporator. The company will conduct the china store on west Center street along the usual business lines.

REVIEWS EXPERIENCE IN TERRIBLE TORNADO

Victor Gilmore Caught in Y. M. C. A. Building.

ONE SIDE OF STRUCTURE DEMOLISHED QUICKLY

One Killed and Three Injured Out of Thirty-Five in Building When the Storm Strikes—The Town of Regina Is in Frightful Condition. Loses Household Goods.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Shurz, of west Church street, have received a letter from Victor Gilmore, who was in Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, last Sunday, when the town was swept by a terrific tornado, which almost totally destroyed it. The letter is as follows:

"You no doubt have read about the storm that struck this town, and, of the damage done. I do not want to go through any more like it. I was in the Y. M. C. A. building at the time the storm came up, and was looking out across the park and saw sticks, houses, boats and everything flying in the air. Then the windows commenced to fly from the building, and all who were in the building at the time were panic stricken. We were blown from one room into another, and I was trying to get into the basement when half of the building caved in. I just missed being caught. I got out of there as fast as I could, not knowing but that the rest of the building would go. I ran across the park and went to our room to see if everything was all right. The storm did not do any damage there. I came back to the building and found there had been one killed and three injured, out of the thirty-five or forty in the building at the time of the storm.

"The town is in an awful condition at present. I guess I will be out of a job as the Y. M C A. is completely ruined. I think most of the goods we had stored here are lost as the entire freight sheds were blown away. So far as I know the dead will total fifty or sixty and I think there are several people under the ruins of the buildings."

Mr. Gilmore has been interested in Y. M. C. A work for years and is a former Marion boy. He took charge of the physical directorship of the association at Regina about two months ago, going there from Vernon, British Columbia Miss Rella Shurz, his sister-in-law, and Mr. Gilmore's little daughter, Marion, who makes her home with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Shurz, had intended leaving in a short time to spend a year with Mr and Mrs. Gilmore, Mr. Gilmore having already secured a position for Miss Shurz in the playground work at that place.

AN AUTO DAMAGED SOUTH OF CITY FRIDAY

Occupants Have a Narrow Escape from Injury.

An auto belonging to Charles Page, of Mansfield, was badly damaged and the occupants, two women, two men and a girl, had a narrow escape from serious injury, as the result of an accident on the Prospect pike, about a mile and a half south of this city, about 6 o'clock, Friday evening. Mr. Page was enroute in his machine to Mansfield, after having made a trip to Dayton with guests from Nebraska.

At the time of the accident, the machine was making a speed of about thirty miles an hour, and at the point mentioned, as the auto was turning to pass the wagon of Konkle & Moon, from the rear, the rear wheel skidded as it struck the grass at the side of the road, and came near overturning. The rear left wheel was torn to pieces, and the machine was otherwise damaged. The gentleman who was with Mr. Page, and who came from Nebraska, was thrown out, but escaped with only a badly sprained ankle.

After the accident, Mr. Konkle, the driver of the wagon, assisted the party in transferring their belongings to his wagon and the trip was made to this city.

CYRUS SMYLES FINED BY JUSTICE GOMPF

Is Arrested for Having a Seine in His Possession.

Cyrus Smyles, residing four miles west of Scott Town, was fined $25 and costs by Justice Charles E. Gompf, Friday at noon, after pleading guilty to having a seine in his possession contrary to law. Conrad Neimeyer, of Prospect, deputy fish and game warden, caused his arrest. He says that Smyles has been seining for some time, but that he charged him with merely having a seine in his possession to let him off as easily as possible for the first offense. Smyles paid.

NEWTON M. MILLER LOSES A DAUGHTER

Little Three-Year-Old Dies at Columbus, Friday Night.

Friends of Newton M. Miller, manager of the Ohio Tractor company, were deeply pained to learn of the death of his little three-year-old daughter, which occurred at the family residence in Columbus, Friday night. Tonsilitis is given as the cause of death. The little daughter had been ill for two weeks, and had given Mr. Miller much concern, but there never was a time but her recovery was expected.

MARION POSTOFFICE FISCAL YEAR ENDED

An Increase of About $1,000 Noted in Receipts.

TOTAL OF $52,366.09 TAKEN IN AT OFFICE

The Amount Is $12,368.00 More Than Is Necessary To Keep the Local Office in the First Class. Amount of Money on Deposit in the Postal Savings Bank.

For the fiscal year ended June 30, receipts at the Marion postoffice reached $52,366.09, an increase of about $1,000. This is $12,366.09 more than necessary to retain a postoffice in the first class.

The class of the postoffice and the salary of the postmaster, however, are not based on the receipts of the fiscal year, but for the year ended March 31. Then the receipts amounted to considerably more than $50,000 as was stated in the Star at the time.

"When I speak of the receipts of the postoffice," said Postmaster Dickerson in an interview lately, "I do not include the money order department. The class of the postoffice is based only on the receipts for stamps, postals and envelopes. The receipts of the money order department for the fiscal year amounted to over $200,000. If we could count that in as receipts for the office we would be swimming."

At the close of the fiscal year money on deposit in the postal savings bank amounted to $10,229.

"Bear in mind that our postal savings bank has only been in operation since last October," declared the postmaster in speaking of this feature of the postal department.

The West Marion branch is doing a nice business, according to the receipts of the office, the postmaster says. Its money order department is proving popular with the foreign element.

THE INDICTMENTS FOUND SUFFICIENT

Judge Henderson Overrules the Demurrers Offered.

In common pleas court, Friday, Judge Henderson read his decision overruling the demurrers to indictments against Benjamin Meck. The decision was accompanied by an exhaustive opinion, in which the court held that he had nothing to do at this time with the merits, that the indictments contained irrelevant matter, but that nevertheless they were sufficient in law, and stated good cause of action if the evidence should be sufficient to sustain them

The defense waived the reading of the indictments and entered pleas of not guilty, the state objecting to the waiver. Bond was fixed at $1,000 in each case. The defense urged an immediate trial, the state also objecting on the ground that there would be no opportunity. The court said he could not hear the cases before September, and the matter was left open.—Bucyrus Daily Forum.

WILL MAKE HIS

197th VISIT TO MARION

MONDAY, JULY 15th

HOTEL COMFORT,

10 A. M. to 8 P. M. One Day Only

PRACTICE LIMITED

To the Treatment of Chronic Diseases by Home Methods.

L. F. VOKE, PH. G., M. D.

Graduate, Ohio State University, Starling Medical College, American College of Optometry. Eight years of College and University training. Nearly twenty years experience in the treatment of CHRONIC DISEASES of MEN AND WOMEN.

Symptoms Most Common

to chronic sufferers are weakness, nervousness, despondency, sleeplessness, discouragement, lack of ambition, poor memory, confusion of ideas, poor circulation, headache, dizziness, brain and nerve exhaustion, palpitation and fluttering of the heart, weak and trembling limbs, worry, fear, pains in head, back, abdomen or joints, cough, variable appetite, chills and flashes of heat, shortness of breath, swelling of hands and feet, dry or clammy skin, coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, gas in stomach and bowels, weak back, soft and flabby flesh, faintness, impaired vision, pimples, bloating and many other symptoms incident to disease in men and women. The vast majority of men and women are deficient in some respect. Many are not exactly sick, but some chronic affection is sapping their vital force. They attend to daily duties but life has become a drag and lost much of its pleasure.

Every Afflicted Man and Woman should heed these symptoms. They are nature's warning that something is wrong—a cry for help. Temporary relief is not sufficient. The cause must be discovered and removed.

Remember, that nearly every chronic disease, if taken in time, can be cured by proper home treatment. Neglect only leads to more serious results. Do not put off a matter of such vital importance. Success or failure in life depends on your physical and mental condition. No matter what the disease, its name or nature, if it is chronic and susceptible to home treatment you are invited to call or write regarding it. Everything confidential. Consultation, examination and advice free.

DISEASES OF WOMEN

Ninety per cent of women suffer from some form of female weakness. Many, in secret, are living miserable, unhappy lives. Do not let modesty destroy your health. Simple home treatment, of the proper kind, if used in time will prevent serious complications that may lead to the necessity of dangerous operations and expensive hospital treatment. Dr. Voke's "Treatment at home plan" is not a "cure-all" remedy. Each case is treated separately with remedies adapted to each individual. No humiliating examinations. No operations. Remedies are harmless and can be used in privacy. More than one-half of Dr. Voke's patients are women. Write if you cannot call. Consultation free and confidential.

DISEASES OF MEN

More not is printed and more fraud is practiced on this class of diseases than all others. These unfortunates surely are entitled to a square deal. Dr. Voke wants every man who is weak, nervous, lack vigor, discouraged or suffering from any disease caused by ignorance, excesses, contagion, incompetent treatment or neglect to read his book on sex hygiene entitled "A Physician's Advice to His Son." Contains information that every parent and young man should know, also directions for home treatment that will cure many afflicted men without doctors, drugs or expense. This book does not advertise any doctor, medical firm, or patent medicine. Mailed in plain sealed package on receipt of 10 cents, stamps or coin.

EYES TESTED FREE

Many chronic troubles are attended by defective vision or eye strain. Glasses fitted and furnished.

Why Consult Dr. Voke?

He has made regular monthly visits to this community for fifteen years and has established a permanent practice and reputation. His practice is limited to chronic diseases and he has spent practically all his life in the study and treatment of them. He is in the prime of life (forty-five) and at his very best to do good work. His practice consists mainly of long standing cases who have failed to obtain satisfaction elsewhere. At least three-fourths of his patients are sent to him by former patrons. If he thinks he cannot help you he will say so. His treatment is easy to use and requires no detention from occupation, family or home. He does not depend on "cure-all" remedies. Each case is treated separately with remedies adapted to each individual. Injurious stomach dragging is avoided. His internal remedies are mild and harmless. Special directions are given each case regarding diet, bathing, habits, etc. When necessary, special directions for massage are given and other local treatments are devised and furnished to meet the needs of each case.

REMEMBER

That Dr. Voke invites searching investigation of his work and methods, that his best references are his many friends and patients, the result of fifteen years practice in this community. That his charges are so fair and reasonable that the poorest working man or woman need not hesitate to apply for treatment. Most important of all, do not put off treatment until complication or complete collapse comes. Oftentimes a few days of sick-a-bed illness costs more than a complete course of treatment.

379 WEST SIXTH AVE. COLUMBUS, OHIO

L. B. McNeal, chairman of the Republican central committee, announced that the committee would not meet to confirm the candidates' selection of an executive committee until Saturday, July 13. It had been planned to hold a meeting of the committee Saturday, but all the members were not notified, and Chairman McNeal decided to postpone it a week. "The meeting will be called at 1 o'clock in time for you to get the personnel of the new executive committee," said Chairman McNeal.

NEW SERVICE DIRECTOR IS APPOINTED TODAY

Edward Brandt Will Succeed J. C. Anthony.

Friday Mayor C. D. Walters announced the appointment of Edward Brandt, who resides at the corner of Bellefontaine avenue and Girard avenue, as the new director of public service, to succeed J. C. Anthony, who tendered his resignation several weeks ago. Mr. Brandt accepted the honor tendered him by the mayor, and began his duties as the head of the department last Monday.

Mayor Walters made an effort to have Mr. Anthony continue to serve the city, and the latter remained in the office about three weeks after the date set for his retirement. Finding his business needed all of his attention, he informed the mayor that he would have to give up the duties. Mr. Anthony served the city faithfully, and his services were of great value.

In selecting Mr. Brandt to succeed Mr. Anthony, the mayor feels that he has chosen a man who is well qualified for the office. The new appointee has long been a resident of the city, and is very well known and highly esteemed. He is a stone and brick mason, and his knowledge of contract work will be of value to him in filling the office of service director.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL HOLDS PICNIC AT FAIRGROUND

German M. E. Pupils Pass a Very Pleasant Day.

The German M. E. Sunday-school held its annual picnic at the fairground, Thursday afternoon The attendance was very good, about 100 being present.

About 12:30 o'clock, the picnickers gathered under the shade of the trees to partake of a fine picnic dinner. The afternoon was spent with games and races. In a running race, the prize was won by Minnie Bechtle and, in a walking contest for the elderly gentlemen, William Gracely won the honors Helen Weber won in a bean bag contest, and Rev. J. C Guenther's class, won in a tug-of-war. In a needle-threading contest Mrs. Heanberger won and Mrs. Herbert Rush held the honors in an egg race. Three sack races were held, Robert Hecker won in the race between boys of from eight to ten years; Paul Seitel won among the boys from ten to thirteen years, and Albert Bechtle carried away the honors in the foot race between boys of thirteen and sixteen years.

A game of baseball was then played, Rev. Mr. Guenther's class playing against a team made up of members of the other classes. Rev. Mr Guenther's team was captained by the pastor, and the other team was captained by John Schott Mr Schott's team won by a score of twenty-six to seven.

MRS. WILLIAM GUARD IS WELL KNOWN HERE

Victim of Drowning Accident Has Relatives in Marion.

Mrs. William Guard, who was drowned in Lake Erie, as was stated in the Star Thursday, was quite well known in Marion. She was the eldest daughter of Rev P A. Drown, who is well known in this county, and was a niece of E. E Drown, former sheriff of Marion county. She had many friends and relatives in this city.

Will of John W. Phillips.

The will of the late John W Phillips has been probated at Upper Sandusky. It leaves the estate of the deceased to his father, brothers and sisters, share and share alike, and names James E Phillips as executor. The estate consists chiefly of real estate in New York City and Kansas City.

THE JULY LIQUOR TAX SETTLEMENT FIGURES

Forty-Eight Saloons in County, Fourth Monday in May.

THE AMOUNT OF TAXES COLLECTED IN COUNTY

County Auditor Jay Spaulding Finishes the Tabulation of the Liquor Taxes—How the Revenue Derived from the Saloons Will Be Divided—What the State Receives.

Friday County Auditor Spaulding completed the tabulation of the July liquor tax settlement, showing the number of the county's saloons to be forty-eight, the fourth Monday in May. These were on the duplicate for the payment of the Dow-Alkin tax in the sum of $18,000.

Between the January settlement and the July settlement, seventeen saloons began business. The state dairy and food commissioner's department in that time added to the duplicate the sum of $726.50 for one saloon, and, with the additional liquor tax of $4,669.46, the total was brought up to $53,395.96. Delinquencies added to the January duplicate amounted to $22,075.89.

The total amount of the liquor tax collected for the July settlement was $29,454.36, and the delinquencies reached $46,017.49. The fees of the auditor and treasurer, amounting to $294.54 each, were turned back into the treasury under the salary law.

The duplicate shows a net balance of $26,530.20, distributed as follows:

State, $8,009.83; county's municipalities, $13,484.32, and infirmary, $5,291.53.

The amount of $255.48 is due from the corporation of La Rue on the January settlement as a result of the saloons having been voted out of business there.

The total of $13,484.32 received by the municipalities is divided as follows:

Marion, $10,653.17; Caledonia, $845.64; New Bloomington, $245; Prospect, $1,337 21; Waldo, $343.

A total of $17,760 was collected from the January liquor settlement and this was distributed as follows:

State, $5,328; municipalities, $8,880; county infirmary, $3,552.

LEWIS CRONENWETT FALLS INTO CISTERN

Has a Very Narrow Escape from Drowning.

The Galion Inquirer, of Friday, tells of a narrow escape by drowning of a former resident of Marion, as follows:

Lewis Cronenwett, of South street, fell into his cistern Thursday afternon and narrowly escaped drowning. All the members of the family were gone from the home except Miss Lizzie Cronenwett, who, missing her father, suspected something wrong and discovered him floundering in the cistern. With the aid of Miss Lais and Mr. Riddlebaugh, the man was pulled from the cistern, and, although greatly exhausted, was finally revived

CELEBRATION IS HELD BY AGOSTA PEOPLE

Rain Interferes Seriously with the Affair.

Rain spoiled the greater part of the Fourth of July celebration planned to be held at Agosta, Thursday afternoon and evening. The program during the afternoon consisted of a motorcycle race over a course of about thirteen miles through the country, this being won by Glenn Drake, while Ralph Brooks finished a close second. Several foot races for boys and young men were run. During the afternoon and evening the Mt. Olive band rendered a program, and in the evening a pyrotechnic display was enjoyed.

ASTRONOMERS GET TWO ANNOUNCEMENTS

Each Contains a Great Deal of Interest to Students.

RADIOACTIVE NOVA AND ROTATION OF URANUS

The Heavens in July Are Indeed Beautiful and the Stargazer May Find Much That Is Pleasing—The Planets and the Stars and Their Location.

Two announcements of interest to astronomers have been made during the past month. The first in a cable message from Kiel—that is, from the office of the Astronomische Nachrichten, which is the distributing and collecting center for astronomical news in Europe—declares that Professor Kustner, of Bonn has found "dark lines of uranium and radium emanation" in the spectrum of Eneho's Nova in Gemini.

No further details have reached the writer; but the high ability and extensive experience of Professor Kustner made it certain that he must possess ample and convincing reasons for this remarkable statement. It is too soon for any attempt to interpret this discovery; but the suggestion that the tremendous outburst of light and heat which accompanies the appearance of a "new star" is in some way of radio-active origin, is too plain to be passed over What the details of the process are, we may find out, or we may not. It may be just as well that such violent outbursts of the tremendous energy stored in the heavier atoms, as may in this case be assumed, cannot be evoked in our laboratories. The results might be disastrous to many more than the experimenter.

The second announcement, made by Dr. Percival Lowell, is that his assistant, Dr. Slipher, has for the first time obtained evidence concerning the rotation period of the planet Uranus. Spectroscopic observations show this to be a little over fifteen hours, the direction of motion being retrograde.

We find that, Judy 1, the planet is about two degrees south and west of a little triangle of fifth-magnitude stars, which themselves are easily found by a line drawn from Alpha Capricorni through its neighbor, Beta, and carried rather more than as far again. During the month he moves about 1 1-2 degrees in a direction a little south of west His motion is too small to be easily detected between one night and the next, but is easily discernible in a week or so.

This is an excellent opportunity to identify the planet, as there are no fixed stars of comparable brightness near enough to be confusing, with the possible exception of Sigma Capricorni, a star a little above the sixth magnitude, which lies about 2 1-2 degrees west of the small triangle already mentioned, and one degree north of the planet's track.

To the naked eye Uranus is a mere speck, of the sixth magnitude, just visible on a dark sky. In a field glass it is fairly conspicuous, but can be distinguished from the stars only by its motion, unless one brings out the decided greenish color of the planet, but a power of at least 100 diameters is necessary to show its disk to the novice, for it appears only 3.6 seconds in diameter—apparently but one-eleventh the size of Jupiter.

Even the most powerful instruments fail to show any markings on the planet's disk sufficiently well defined to make it possible to find its rotation period. We may guess that the inclination of its axis to the orbit plane is very high, for in all other cases, the orbits of the closer satellites of the planets lie nearly in the equatorial plane of their primary; and the satellites of Uranus move in orbits whose plane is almost at right angles to that in which the planet moves about the sun, but is actually tipped a little more than ninety degrees, so that the motion of the satellites, if viewed from a great height above the plane of the planet's orbit, would seem to be in the reverse direction from that of the planet. At certain times we, looking from our position close to the center of the planet's great orbit, see the satellite orbits edgewise; at other times almost squarely in plan. When the orbits are seen edgewise, the planet's disk appears distinctly oval about as much so as that of Jupiter; but when we are looking squarely down on them, the planet seems circular in outline.

This shows that Uranus must be flattened at the poles, and that the equatorial plane must be near that of the satellites' orbits. When we look sidewise at these, we see the planet from the direction of its equator, and the flattening is conspicuous. But when we see the orbits in plan, we are looking almost straight down on the planet's pole, and the apparent boundary of its disk almost coincides with its equator, which of course is circular.

The polar flattening must of course be due to fairly rapid rotation of the planet, and we could safely assume that, since it is much more flattened than the earth its rotation must be more rapid. But no markings on its surface which would test the question have ever been seen. Under favorable conditions, faint belts have been observed on the disk; but these are continuous, as the belts of Saturn usually are, and one part of them cannot be told from another, so that they leave us no wiser than before.

The only answer of the problem is given by the spectroscope. If the planet is in rotation, one side must be approaching us, and the other receding. If we make a photograph of its spectrum, the lines will be slightly shifted toward the red on one side, and toward the violet on the other, so that they will cross the spectrum at a slant, which will obviously be greater, the more rapid the rotation. In this way Mr. Slipher, with a specially constructed instrument, has found values for the rotation periods of Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn which agree very closely with the known values—thus testing his method—and has shown that the rotation period of Venus must be very long. Uranus is so faint that the obtaining of good photographs must be exceedingly difficult, and the successful issue of Mr. Slipher's work is cause for hearty congratulation to himself and to Dr. Lowell.

Alpha Capricorni is very well known as a double to the naked eye, and Beta in a field glass. Among interesting pairs for telescopic study may be noted p Capricorni, the uppermost star in the small triangle below a and b, which has a companion of magnitude seven and six-tenths at a distance of a little under three seconds; n Capricorni, at the southeastern corner of the same triangle, which has a ninth magnitude companion, at a little greater distance; the Serpentis shown near the upper right-hand corner of the map, which is a fine wide bright pair, of twenty-two seconds separation; and e Equulei, a small star very nearly half way between Altair and a Aquarii, which has a companion at about ten seconds distance, while the principal star is a close pair, now growing closer on account of orbital motion, and separable only in large telescopes.

At our usual observing hour, 10:30 p. m. in the middle of the month, these constellations are all in the southeastern sky. Scorpio is resplendent in the south, and Virgo and Bootes in the west. Hercules and Lyra are nearly overhead. Draco and Ursa Minor are high in the north, Ursa Major well up in the northwest, and Cassiopeia rather lower in the northeast, while Andromeda and Pegasus have risen, and returned to the evening skies.

The Planets.

Mercury is evening star all through July, and is well observable in the latter part of the month, especially about the 25th, when he is apparently farthest from the sun, and sets about 8:30 p. m. He is then in Leo, and outshines even Regulus by almost a magnitude, so that there can be no difficulty about finding him. Venus is in conjunction with the sun on the 5th, passing behind him, and is invisible this month.

Mars is evening star in Leo setting about 9 p. m. In the middle of the month, and appearing like a star of the second magnitude. During the latter part of the month he is within about seven degrees of Mercury, but the two plants are not near enough to be said to be in conjunction.

Jupiter is in Scorpio, past opposition, coming to the meridian about 9 p. m., and is the finest object in the evening sky.

Saturn is morning star in Taurus, rising about 1:30 a m in the middle of the month

Uranus is in opposition on the 24th. We have already told how to find him.

Neptune is in conjunction with the sun on the 16th, and is invisible.

The moon is in her last quarter on July 7th at 11 a. m.; new at 7 a m. on the 14th; in her first quarter at 11 p. m. on the 20th, and full at 10 p. m. on the 28th She is farthest away on the 1st and 28th, and nearest us on the 14th, which, being also the very day of new moon, will be marked by unusually high spring tides.

In her circuit around the heavens she passes by Uranus on the 1st, Saturn on the 10th, Venus and Neptune on the 14th, Mercury and Mars on the 16th, Jupiter on the 24th, and Uranus again on the 28th, without seeming to come very near any of them.—By Henry Norris Russell, Ph. D., in the Scientific American.

CHILD IS TAKEN ON HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

From the Home of a Minister at Richwood.

FORMER WIFE OF REV. ALBERT GULLEDGE

Comes Here from Indianapolis, Retains the Services of a Local Legal Firm. Secures Writ and Deputy Sheriff Breen Goes to Richwood for the Lad.

Armed with a writ of heabeas corpus, Deputy Sheriff Cornelius Breen drove to Richwood in an automobile Monday afternoon and secured eleven-year-old Redus Gulledge who, his mother claimed, was being deprived of his liberty by his father, Rev. Albert Gulledge, pastor of the Richwood Christian church.

The court action revealed in the life of Rev Mr. Gulledge a chapter, probably unknown to his little flock. Five years ago, his first wife procured a divorce from him in Indianapolis on the ground of gross neglect of duty and failure to provide. They had been married at Gentryville, Indiana, but several years later their married lot proven unhappy, and they separated. Both agreed to a legal separation. When the wife wrote from Indianapolis to the minister he agreed not to oppose her action, he says, if her grounds would not be damaging to his character. Then it was decided that she should apply in Indianapolis and charge failure to provide and gross neglect of duty. He paid half the costs, according to his story.

At the time the decree was granted the mother was given custody of the little girl, and the boy was sent to the home of Rev. Mr. Gulledge's mother, at Marion, Illinois. Later, when the father married again, he got the boy. Since that time he has had pastorates in several places. He was located at Caledonia for more than a year before going to Richwood last April.

Mother Comes Here.

Monday, the boy's mother, whose name is now Natalie Ewan, arrived in Marion from Indianapolis. She is the wife of a railroad man residing at No. 2110 Prospect street, Indianapolis. Through Crissinger & Guthery she obtained the writ from Judge Daniel Babst, of Crestline, and as soon as County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter could make out the papers, Deputy Sheriff Breen, accompanied by a representative of the Star, departed for Richwood.

Rev. Mr. Gulledge was not at home when the officer arrived in Richwood. Mrs Gulledge, his second wife, said the boy was there "But don't take him until his father comes home," she said.

Mr. Breen said that he would wait until the father returned.

"You can't have him; no you can't have him," cried the father upon returning home, and learning the mission of the visitors

Mr. Breen insisted that he must take the boy, as he had been ordered to do so by the court The minister asked if the officer would wait until he could consult an attorney This Mr. Breen readily consented to do, and Attorney Simons, of Richwood, was called. He advised the minister to surrender the boy, who is large for his age, and then insisted on accompanying the deputy sheriff to Marion.

Enroute here, the minister told his story as he nervously smoked several cigars.

The Father's Story.

"That woman threatened to ruin me if I did not send her the boy," he said. "I sent her letter to my lawyer in Indianapolis She came to Richwood three weeks ago, and we agreed that the boy should go and visit her in August. Then I got the threatening letter after she had returned home. I have done nothing wrong. I told my elders and the members of my flock about all my trouble after she had come. I have nothing now to fear. Of course, I did not tell any one before about my unhappy married life with my first wife. They did not need to know."

Rev. Mr. Gulledge is short and heavy-set, weighing 220 pounds, and is thirty-seven years old.

"The boy is not in any way being deprived of his liberty, as anybody in Richwood can tell you He is well fed, as you may see, and comfortably clothed. This is done through animus If necessary I shall tell some things in court she will not want known."

Upon reaching Marion, Deputy Sheriff Breen allowed the minister to have custody of the boy over night. He gave his word as a minister of the gospel that he would produce him in court in time for the hearing, which had been set for 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon

Tuesday afternoon at the hearing, Mrs. Ewan testified that her son had written to her and asked for money to come to her home in Indianapolis. She did not send the money, she said, but came herself to see what was wrong. At another time the boy wrote to her, and asked for money to pay a newspaper in Cleveland for newspapers he had sold in Richwood. He said that he had the money, but that his parents had taken it.

Holds Decision.

After hearing the evidence on a writ of habeas corpus procured by Mrs. Natalie Ewan, of Indianapolis, to get possession of her eleven-year-old son, Redus Gulledge, Judge Daniel Babst, of Crestline, Tuesday afternoon, reserved his decison until Friday. Meanwhile, the boy is to be held technically in the custody of the sheriff, but was allowed to return to Richwood with his father, Rev, Albert Gulledge.

Attorney D R Crissinger, counsel for Mrs. Ewan, aroused the ire of the Richwood Christian church pastor when he was on the witness stand The boy had told his mother that his father burned the Christmas present that she sent him.

Asked if he had burned the presents in the presence of the child, Rev Mr. Gulledge at first evaded a direct answer. Pinning him down, the attorney finally got an admission from the minister that he had thus destroyed the Christmas gifts the mother had sent to the boy

"Do you think, as a minister of the gospel, that was a Chrstian act?" Attorney Crissinger asked

Rev Mr Gulledge replied, that, under the circumstances, he thought it was.

Attorney Gets Warm.

Then the attorney began to "rawhide" the witness, and the minister told him he was an attorney devoid of Christianity

"If it is Christianity to burn up the little presents that this mother here sent her boy—if that is what you call Christianity, then I don't want or need any of your kind of Christianity," shouted Mrs Evan's counsel He was aparently mad clear through, and Judge Babst found it necessary to admonish both the witness and the lawyer.

Attorney Crissinger forced the minister to admit that he would punish the boy if he wrote to his mother in reply to the letters she wrote him.

The attorney demanded to know if he had not whipped him because he had written. The minister replied that he did not remember of ever having whipped him for writing to his mother, but admitted that he would have whipped him if he had caught him writing to her

The boy was not permitted to testify, and was kept in the office of County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter throughout the hearing.

Before the lad departed for the Richwood train with his father and stepmother, Judge Babst called him into his private office and had a long talk with him.

DESERTED HUSBAND SECURES HIS CHILD

Taken from Home in Delaware by Wife and Mother,

AFTER DISPOSING OF THEIR HOUSEHOLD GOODS

William Fisher Follows Wife Here and Regains Little One at Police Station—Erring Wife and Mother, Husband Claims, Becomes Infatuated with Carnival Employe.

William Fisher, of Delaware, called at police headquarters Wednesday to ask the local officers to assist in locating his wife, who left home Tuesday afternoon with their three-year-old adopted daughter, Eleanor

Fisher, whose hands bear out his statement that he is a hard-working man, was very nervous, and smiles of joy replaced his sad countenance when he was informed that the woman and child had applied at police headquarters for assistance about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening

When the woman called at headquarters with the little girl, she was provided with lodging for the night at the Daugherty rooming-house on north Main street. She was to call at police headquarters at 9 o'clock Wednesday, and when the deserted husband was informed of this, he waited for her appearance. The deserting wife called about an hour late in company with the child and a woman to whom she intended giving the girl to raise. As soon as she appeared, the child was turned over to the father.

The foster mother seemed pleased to get rid of the child, and after the father took charge of the little girl, they left police headquarters going in opposite directions

According to the deserted husband, the woman became infatuated with an employe of the Smith carnival Her husband brought her to Marion, Saturday night, to take in the shows and she managed to leave him long enough to meet the fellow with whom she fell in love at first sight Fisher says

Fisher stated that his wife sold almost all of the household goods, after he kissed her goodbye, and went to his work in the morning He was broken hearted, and tears rolled down his cheeks as he boarded the car to return to Delaware

QUITE WELL KNOWN IN MARION COUNTY

Is Woman Who Elopes with Robert Warrington

AND IS APPREHENDED OUT IN SAN FRANCISCO

Mrs. Pearl Shrontz, of Martinsburg, a Former Student at the Ohio Wesleyan University, Is the Sister of Mrs. Robert C. Edgington, of Caledonia—Is Enroute to Ohio.

Mrs Pearl Shrontz, wife of Dr. W E Shrontz, of Martinsburg, Knox county, arrested in San Francisco in company with Robert Warrington, a traveling salesman, also residing at Martinsburg, is quite well known in this county. She is a sister of Mrs. Robert C Edgington, wife of the Methodist minister at Caledonia

Mrs. Edgington was terribly shocked when she read of her sister's act. Tuesday, Rev Mr. Edgington, when asked if he knew any of the circumstances of the elopement, declared he knew nothing beyond what he had read in the newspapers. He said he did not know Warrington, with whom his sister-in-law had eloped.

Mrs Shrontz and Warrington were placed under arrest in the Golden Gate City, Sunday. The couple had been trailed there by the woman's husband and her father-in-law, J. O. Shrontz.

Warrington was placed in jail and Mrs. Shrontz was given the choice of being locked up or of accompanying her husband back to Ohio She chose the latter, and is now enroute home.

Mrs Shrontz, whose maiden name was Rause, was educated at the Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware, where she first met Warrington. Her parents live at Xenia.

"I did wrong—I don't know why," wept the faithless wife

"I can't live with her again—I cant leave her here like this," moaned the husband. Then he added: "I will take her back to her mother."

THE INFANT SON OF MARION SMITH

Dies of Pneumonia and Whooping Cough in Toledo.

Mr and Mrs. C. H Williams, of No. 728 north State street, received word Monday evening of the death of their little grandson, Paul Edgar, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Smith, of Toledo, former residents of Marion. The child was aged two years and six months and his death was caused by pneumonia, following a three-weeks' illness of whooping cough and a complication of diseases.

Aside from the parents, three sisters and one brother, survive. They are Mildred, Carol, Glenna and Pauline. The last named is a twin sister of the diseased.

The remains were brought to Marion Wednesday noon, and were taken immediately to the Marion cemetery, where they were interred.

ANCIENT BODIES ARE UNEARTHED

Man Discovers Five Bodies Eight Miles from Delaware.

Delaware, O., June 9.—Charles Peal, of this county, while digging gravel from a pit eight miles north of this city, discovered five carcasses Mr Peal states that the five bodies have been located and that indications point to further discoveries in that line

When Peal unearthed one of the ancient bones near the edge of the pit, he continued the search and later unearthed one complete skull and many other sections of a human body.

THE HOLLAND STORE ROBBED TUESDAY NIGHT

Cigars, Candy, Chewing-Gum and Tobacco Taken.

A BOY'S CAP FOUND IN STORE WEDNESDAY

May Lead the Police to Discovery of the Parties Guilty of the Job. John T. Shuck Draws a Fine and Workhouse Sentence—Latter Is Suspended by the Mayor.

The confectionery store of W. F. Holland, on Silver street, was broken into Tuesday night, and a nice haul made by the thief. Entrance to the place was gained by breaking a glass from the door. Four boxes of cigars, four boxes of chewing gum, one box of butterscotch candy, one box of Duke's smoking tobacco, twenty packages of Velvet and two dozen packages of Prince Albert smoking tobacco and one gallon of flavoring extract was stolen from the store.

When the proprietor opened the place Wednesday he found a boy's cap and some candy and chewing gum in the cap. He reported the burglary to the police, and turned the cap over to the officers for a clue.

John T. Shuck, who was arrested about a wek ago on an affidavit filed by his estranged wife, who charged him with assault, was given a hearing before Mayor Walters, Tuesday evening. Several witnesses testified in the case, and at the close of the evidence the mayor rendered a verdict of guilty.

Shuck was fined $10 and the costs and sentenced to ninety days in the Dayton workhouse. He paid the fine and costs, and the workhouse was suspened on his promise to stay away from his wife, who is now seeking a divorce.

LESLIE LENON IS DROWNED IN EAST

Parents Are Grief-Stricken Over Sad Happening.

NEWS OF DROWNING RECEIVED TUESDAY

Young Lenon Enlists in the Regular Army and Is Stationed at Sacketts Harbor, New York, When He Meets His Death—The Remains Reached Here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lenon, of No 337 Monroe street, received a telegram Tuesday afternoon stating that their son, Leslie, a private in the regular army, had been drowned, Monday, at his headquarters at Sacketts Harbor, New York. The message did not state how the accident occurred but said that full particulars would follow later.

The parents are grief-stricken over the loss of their only son and eldest child, and his many friends and acquaintances in this city will be shocked and grieved to learn of the deplorable accident

Young Lenon was only twenty-one years of age He resided in this city until two years ago, when his parents moved to Mattoon, Illinois, where he enlisted in the army June 30, 1911. Last March, the family returned to Marion, and the young man was planning to come home on a furlough in September.

Aside from his parents, Mr. Lenon is survived by three sisters, Hazel, Goldie and Blanche

The remains arrived here on the Erie train late Wednesday.

JUST THREE SECONDS OVER EIGHT MINUTES

Is Time of Dr. C. G. Smith from Green Camp to Marion.

Dr. C G Smith, of west Center street, made a remarkably fast trip from Green Camp to Marion, Tuesday evening, following a wager that he could drive the distance of six miles in his auto in eight minutes and a quarter Harry Slusser, of the Cadillac garage, took the opposing end of Smith's wager, and Newton Davis accompanied Smith on the trip to act as time-keeper.

Smith drove his own four-cylinder Ford roadster, the trip to be from the last store in Green Camp with a flying start to the intersection of Prospect street and Bellefontaine avenue. Davis held the watch and kept the driver of the car posted on the time, while he also adjusted the carbureter on the trip. Dr. Smith drove the distance of almost six miles in exactly eight minutes and three seconds

Slusser lost the bet, although he says, according to the agreement, Davis, who is agent for the auto, was not to keep the driver posted on the time or assist him on the trip.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Grand Opera-House company against Frank R. Salter and others, is the title of a petition-in-error filed in the circuit court, Tuesday, through Scofield & Durfee. The grounds of error are that the court erred in appointing a receiver without notice to the plaintiff-in-error; in authorizing the recever to reinvest the money; in issuing an order for the production of the books, etc., and because of other errors on the face of the record.

The following officers were installed at a regular meeting of Canby Temple, No. 152. Pythian Sisters, Monday night

Mrs. Ruth Shoots, most excellent chief; Mrs. Susie Swisher, excellent senior; Mrs. Zula Liggett, excellent junior; Mrs Inez Davis, manager; Mrs. Chrystal Morrison, mistress of finance; Mrs. Ida Ritzhaupt, mistress of records and correspondence; Mrs Anna Ulsh, protector; Mrs. Frances McClain, outer guard

Other officers of the temple not installed, are Mrs. Dora Lewis, captain of the degree staff, and Mrs. Etta Radebaugh, pianist.

Mrs. Alice Eibling was the installing officer. She was assisted by Mrs. Dora Lewis and Mrs. Gertrude Baker.

Following the meeting, a social session was enjoyed, refreshments being served.

A small attendance marked the regular meeting of Kosicusko Lodge, No. 58, I. O. O. F. Monday night, but the second degree was conferred upon two candidates and a number of routine business matters acted upon.

Next Monday night the incoming officers will be installed, and the new appointments made by Noble Grand-Elect Charles Doll. At the next meeting, a new degree team for third degree work will be organized.

Marion Camp, No. 65, Sons of Veterans, held no meeting Monday night as scheduled, but arrangements have been made for the regular meeting two weeks from Monday night, at which time a degree team will be selected to put on the work of the camp during the coming fall and winter months. The report of Delegate W. J. Sontag will be read at the meeting, Mr. Sontag having been delegated to attend the state G. A. R encampment recently held at Dayton.

One hundred Knights of Pythias and their friends attended the annual picnic of Marion Lodge, No. 402, Knights of Pythias, Tuesday afternoon and evening at Lincoln park.

One of the amusing features of the picnic was the ball game between two nines picked at random by John H. Clark and Rollo L. Shrock and known as the Steam Shovel and Up Town teams. The game resulted in a victory for the Up-Town team, captained by John H. Clark, the score being fifteen to twelve.

Following the game, a big picnic spread was enjoyed. The wives of lodge members brought well-filled baskets, and everybody had plenty to eat.

After supper, an old-fashioned quadrille was held in the pavilion, many of the picnickers participating. Banjo and violin music was enjoyed

The picnic committee consisted of W. S Spencer, Fred E. Schaeffer, John Cleveland and M. A. Pickering.

The following officers were installed at a regular meeting of the Home Guards, Tuesday night:

A. Noble, worthy councilman; Mrs J. A. Rice, vice councillor, Miss Anna Mitchell, conductress; Guy Wilmot, guide, S. A. Noble, chaplain; J A. Rice, recording secretary; J. G. Seiter, financial secretary; Guy Jones, treasurer; Mrs B. A Bastian, outside shield, and Miss Verna Wilmot, pianist.

B. A. Bastian was the installing officer.

The next meeting will be held the last Tuesday night in July

The attendance was very good at the stated meeting of Marion Chapter, No. 62, Royal Arch Masons, held at the Masonic temple. Tuesday evening. Royal arch work was put on, and routine business was transacted.

Another meeting of the chapter will be held next Tuesday afternoon and evening, beginning at 2 o'clock, for royal arch work

The regular meeting of the Red Men, Tuesday evening was largely attended. Aside from the routine business, arrangements were made for an ice-cream social, for the members and their families, to be held in the near future. The recently-elected officers of the lodge were installed as follows:

Emory Miles, sachem; George Tipton, prophet; P. F. Ruhl, senior sagamore; Roy Huffines, junior sagamore; Carl Koenig, inner guard; Leo Schoechle, outer guard

The next reuglar meeting will be held in one week.

A regular meeting of the Druids circle was held in the Druids' hall on south Main street, Tuesday night, the attendance being quite large.

Arrangements were completed for a big meeting in two weeks, when an ice-cream social will be enjoyed

Arrangements were made for the semi-annual installation of officers in two weeks, Tuesday night, at a regular meeting of Sosnowski Rebekah lodge, I. O. O F. Several applications for membership were balloted on. The meeting was fairly well attended.

A regular meeting of Lime City Council, No 206, Jr. O. U. A. M., was held, Tuesday evening, with a good attendance. The regular routine business was transacted and the recently-elected officers were installed by State Deputy R. E. Prettyman. The following are the officers installed: Harry L. Berger, junior past counsellor; R. A. Miller, counsellor; Marley Edsell, vice counsellor; Victor Decker, warden; H. E. Williams, conductor, and C. M Fisher, assistant recording secretary.

Following the business of the evening a smoker and social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Marley Edsell, Grover Zimmer and C. B. Shetterly composed the social committee in charge. Three visitors were present from other lodges

The next meeting will be held in two weeks.

THE ASSIGNEES CITED TO APPEAR

And Tell Why They Haven't Administered Cusick Estate.

Wednesday Probate Judge W. S. Spencer issued a citation for Edmond Molloy and A. C. Edmondson, assignees for the late Bartholomew Cusick, requiring them to appear before him, Monday morning at 10 o'clock, August 12, and show cause why they should not proceed with the administration of their trust. According to the records of the case Messrs. Molloy and Edmondson were appointed assignees March 5, 1898.

The citation was issued upon the motion of the First National bank, of Delaware, which holds a claim against the Cusick estate originally amounting to $1,666.80. This claim was allowed by the assignees May 18, 1898, but was never paid There is now due the bank, it is alleged, the sum of $2,401.87, with eight per cent, interest from June 29 1912.

Mr. Cusick, bankrupt, had set off to him in November, 1896, a homestead of forty acres, south of Marion in Marion township. This was exempt from sale until his death in September, 1910. At his death the petitioner avers his homestead estate ended and says the property is now subject to sale by the assignees for the purpose of paying off the indebtedness remaining, a thirty-three per cent. dividend having formerly been paid.

The bank petitioner, through Copeland & Bartram, prays the court to remove the assignees if they refuse or decline to proceed with the further administration of the estate

Some time ago, farm property involved was sold at sheriff's sale to John Flach, but Judge W. E. Scofield, in the common pleas court, set aside the sale because the matter had never been adjudicated in the probate court.

GRASSHOPPERS ARE DOING BIG DAMAGE

To the Crops of Farmers in This Vicinity, Says Report.

Grasshoppers have caused severe injury this season in this section. They began in the clover and many farmers cut their hay prematurely in order to save it, for where it is not cut it is stripped of its leaves so that the bare stems and heads alone remain. After the clover is cut, the insects make their way to adjoining corn, oats or rye fields and continue their work of destruction In an attempt to save the remaining crops, a representative of the department of entomology of the experiment station visited this region and tested out the efficiency of the "Hopperdozer," for catching the hoppers, and the results of the trial are herewith presented in the hope that other communities may profit by them and adopt them if they are visited with the scourge.

The "Hopperdozer" is a mechanical contrivance designed by the state people, and it proves of great value in destroying the pests

WHYSALL AND GUTHERY FILE A CROSS-PETITION

In Columbus, Marion & Bucyrus Interurban Matter.

THEY WANT RECEIVERS' CERTIFICATES PAID

Before the Claims of Any Other Creditors of the Road—Answer Filed in Kurtz-Winch Matter. Ohio Milling & Elevator Property Reappraised.

Asking that receivers' certificates to the amount of $14,000, with interest from April 8, 1910, be declared the first and best lien upon the Columbus, Marion & Bucyrus Railway company's property, Receivers George Whysall and Fred E. Guthery, Wednesday afternoon, filed in the court of common pleas their cross-petition in the suit of the Cincinnati Trust company against the Interurban company.

By authority of the court, the receivers were authorized to issue $65,000 of receivers' certificates, the proceeds of which were to be used in equipping the road with cars and other equipment for operation. The receivers issued twenty of these certificates at a par value of $1,000 each, bearing date of April 8, 1910. Out of the earnings of the road, the receivers canceled six of these notes, and now want the court to direct that the remaining fourteen be paid first out of the sale of the property.

An answer, making a general denial, has been filed by J. F. Winch in the suit of W. F. Kurtz against J. F. Winch. Whatever sum he may have owed the plaintiff has been fully paid, he says. His answer was filed through Mouser & Moloney.

S. B. Lippincott, John V. Wilson and George S. Bain, appointed by Judge Daniel Babst to reappraise the property of the Ohio Milling & Elevator company, Thursday filed with County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter their report, which fixed the new valuation at $9,000. The property was formerly appraised at $12,000, but when offered for sale by the sheriff, no bids of two-thirds of the appraisement or over were received.

In the suit of Horace Miller against S. A. and Anna Krugh, the defendants, through Mouser & Moloney Thursday filed an answer, setting up that since the note of $150, mentioned in the petition, was executed and delivered, they have paid to the plaintiff $37. They also say the plaintiff received from them a roll-top desk valued at $15, and ask that they be credited with $57 on the note. In the event judgment is entered upon the balance of the note, the answering defendants pray that the plaintiff be compelled to pay the costs. The note was given in a horse trade.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 11.—Wheat was ½ to ⅝ lower at the opening this morning, the main feature being fine weather for development of spring wheat and the movement of winter wheat. Good rains and cooler weather helped. Northwest receipts were small

Corn opened unchanged to ⅜c lower on rains in some sections of the Southwest, and a general precipitation throughout the Ohio valley.

Oats were ⅛ to ⅜c lower in sympathy with wheat and corn.

Provisions were easier in tone in sympathy with hogs at the yards.

Wheat—December, 1.02 to 1.02⅛; July 1.04¼; September, 1.00¼ to 1.00½.

Corn—December, 59 to 58⅞; July, 72½; September, 68 to 68⅜.

Oats—December, 36⅝; July, 42⅞; September, 35⅝ to 35⅝@¾.

Pork—July, 18.12; September, 18.42.

Lard—July, 10.62; September, 10.80.

Ribs—September, 10.55.

Wheat was nervous and fluctated irregularly up and down on good weather and rust damage reports. Final prices were ½c lower on July, ⅛@¼c on September and ¼c on December.

Corn closed irregularly, with prices ranging from ¼c lower to ⅜c higher. While the market was nervous it showed considerable strength at times.

Oats were off, with prices ranging from ¼@⅜ to ⅝c lower. This market reflected that of the other cereals.

Provisions were little lower all around. Features were lacking.

Wheat—December, 1.02; July, 1.04; September, 1.00¼@⅜.

Corn—December, 58⅞; July, 73@¼; September, 68⅞.

HEALTH OFFICER WEEKS WILL NOT TEMPORIZE

Property-Owners Must Get Busy Immediately

AND CLEAN UP THEIR PREMISES IN CITY

He Asks for the Cooperation of All Citizens and Promises To Treat All Alike—Weeds and Filth Must Be Put Out of the Way—Suggests Proper Methods.

Having investigated the health departments of Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo and Dayton recently, I appreciate the requirements and demands of our own city.

The health department, at this time of year especially, requires many strenuous regulations, and we kindly ask that the same be promptly complied with . As the mowing of noxious weeds—as weeds promote disease, are offensive, unsightly and afford a splendid hiding-place for offenders who desire to conceal garbage and various other decomposed products, immediate action should be taken by property owners. Removal of all garbage as far as possible, placing same in garbage cans provided for that purpose is suggested, and for a small sum the garbage will be removed as requested. The proper cleaning of all privy vaults, water closets and removal of manure must be rigidly enforced. Decomposed meats and decayed fruits and vegetables found in markets must be removed to the garbage disposal plant promptly. All horses or cattle having communicable diseases must be kept off of the streets.

Creameries, bakeries, barbers, ice-cream manufacturers, dealers or venders must comply with the statutes.

The milk supply furnished by dairies and dealers must comply with the standard required in other cities. The indiscriminate use of quarries as a dumping ground will not be tolerated.

All contagious, infectious and communicable diseases must be better regarded, and quarantine regulations more sacredly observed. All nuisances must be abated.

In every large city, and ninety-five per cent. of the smaller cities of our country the position of health officer is held by a qualified physician. This is an innovation for our city.

In assuming the important position of health officer, I most earnestly and sincerely solicit the hearty cooperation of every physician, citizen and property-owner, and kindly ask that they labor faithfully for the improvement and maintenance of better sanitation and improved hygienic surroundings.

The immortal Lincoln hath given to us our motto—"With malice toward none, charity for all, but firmness in the right."

Dr. Dana O. Weeks, Health Officer.

LITTLE ONE HANGS HIMSELF ON FENCE

Sad Accident at Oswald Home South of Waldo.

EIGHTEEN-MONTHS-OLD BABY IS THE VICTIM

Babe Attempts To Crawl Through Break in Fence, Slips and Chin Catches on Rail—Is Dying When Found by Mother and Survives but a Short Time.

In the midst of childish frolic, Charles Lee, the eighteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Oswald, of south of Waldo, met a sad death about 8 a. m. Thursday. The baby was playing in the front yard of his parents' home, and attempted to crawl through a broken place in a picket fence. He slipped and fell, catching his chin on the rail of the fence. The little one was unable to extricate himself from his position, and when the mother, who had gone for a bucket of water returned, life was almost extinct.

The baby was tenderly removed to the home, and a physician immediately summoned, but its little life had gone out before the physician arrived. The mother is prostrated by her grief.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald have only been married a few years and this was their only child. Mrs. Oswald was formerly Miss Stella Kenyon, of that vicinity.

COMMON PLEAS COURT.

Albert Messenger against John Hanley, C. B. Freeman and George Weidemaier, infirmary directors, is the title of a suit to recover judgment for $160.40 filed in the court of common pleas Wednesday. The plaintiff alleges that the infirmary directors contracted with him to care for one, Omar Stewart, in his home instead of taking him to the infirmary. The petition was filed by H. Edmund Hill and Conley & Johnson.

THE REGULAR MONTHLY MEETINGS ARE HELD

By the Presbyterian Home and Foreign Societies.

PROGRAM OF HOME SOCIETY IS OMITTED

Foreign Society Program Is of Interest—The Customary Supper Following the Meetings of the Mission Workers Is Omitted Owing to the Hot Weather.

The regular monthly meetings of the Home and Foreign Missionary societies, of the First Presbyterian church, were held at the church Wednesday afternoon. The usual program of the Foreign society was observed, but save for a reading, "What To Do for the Immigrants," by Mrs. C. H. Lennon, no program of the Home society was rendered. It will conduct a program at the next meeting.

The Foreign society program was opened with a song, after which Mrs. S. E. Barlow led in prayer. Mrs. E. C. Carl read the scripture lesson. Singing and the roll call followed.

Mrs. S. E. Barlow gave an interesting talk on "A Fall Campaign for China," and Mrs. E. C. L. Barlow read a well-prepared paper on "The Beginning of Foreign Missions in the United States."

Mrs. U. F. Seffner closed the meeting with a fervent prayer for foreign missions.

No supper was served in the basement, as is customary at these monthly meetings, on account of the extremely warm weather.

The societies will meet again the second Wednesday in August.

You can always depend on some men doing nothing at all times.

OPERATOR LANGBORN IS BADLY BURNED

In the Fire in the Sun Theater Wednesday Evening.

The two films in the moving picture booth at the Sun theater caught fire, shortly after 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, and the fire departments were called to the scene, box, No. 61, being sounded.

At the time of the explosion of the films, O. W. Langhorn, who operates the machine, was in the booth. He made an effort to save the films, and as a result had his right arm badly burned.

The performance was in progress at the time of the fire, and the show continued with but few persons in the audience knowing what had happened. The booth being of sheet iron with closed trap doors, the films were allowed to burn and no other damage was done.

CONGO HORROR PUT TO SHAME

Slavery in Peru Is Laid Bare to Public Gaze.

MANY INDIANS ARE BURNED AT STAKE

Tortured in Every Manner by Barbarous Blacks.

Negroes Who Torture and Kill Are in Employ of British Rubber Companies—Casement Report Filed and Other Nations Call Upon Peru To Put Stop to Atrocities in Province East of Andes.

London, July 8.—For years no scandal has attracted so much attention in diplomatic and philanthropic circles in this country as the Putumayo atrocities. They have at last been fully revealed to the public by the report of Sir Roger Casement, H. M. consul general at Rio de Janeiro since 1909, who was sent by the British government to the Amazon district of South America to investigate certain terrible stories which had leaked out as to the way in which an English rubber company employing British subjects, negroes from Barbados, had been carrying out the work of collecting rubber.

Is Difficult of Access.

The territory of Putumayo lies on the north bank of the Amazon river, well up in the higher reaches, and therefore east of the Andes, on the other side of which lies the main territory of Peru, the dominant power, with its capital at Lima, on the Pacific side. Although thus separated by only some 400 or 500 miles, as a bird flies, from the capital the territory is really as difficult of access as is Odessa from London. Travelers from Lima have to journey north via Panama and thence southeast to the mouth of the Amazon and then west up the river to Iquitos, the nearest town of importance and the head administrative center of the district.

In the district of Putumayo dwelt a number of Indian tribes. It was never suggested they were civilized. It was equally never suggested they were either bellicose or treacherous toward the white man. On the contrary, they were docile, trustful, responsive to good treatment and uncorrupted. Under these circumstances, it is perhaps a marvel that they have remained so long uncontaminated by the worst aspects of western civilization which surrounded them. But so it was until 1896, when the attention of the outsider first became directed toward the rubber possibilities of the country. In that year appeared on the scene the firm of Arana Brothers, who on an arrangement with the Peruvian government secured the monopoly of exploitation and commenced the work of rubber collection, tapping the trees on the lines of aiming at the most immediate profit, without much reference to the future of either the country or the industry.

The only labor on the spot was that of the natives, and accordingly—there is no mincing the matter—the slave trade was introduced in possibly its worst guise. Indeed, there is hardly any parallel in the whole history of this nefarious traffic to the unrelieved horrors which speedily were introduced under the pretended system of paying the natives for the unremitting toil they were compelled to perform in turning to profitable account for others their own property, which had without the slightest consideration been wrested from them.

The Congo crimes were as child's play to the atrocities on the Putumayo. Fearing neither God nor man—for the few Catholic missionaries protested in earnest, outspoken fashion but in vain, while the Peruvian authorities either could not or would not intervene—the rubber crusaders employed the means of torture with all the refinements of modern ingenuity. At first it was fortunate that neither the British government nor the public had any part, lot or responsibility in the campaign of greed, lust and blood. But this was all changed in 1905, when some 36 Barbadian negroes—British subjects—were engaged to act as deputies to the Latin American filibusters.

Reign of Terror Follows.

They were not worse than the men who employed them, but from that time a regime set in which was characterized by dreadful acts of cruelty and by crimes which were revolting in the extreme. These acts were not even denied, but the excuse was put forward that the Indians had massacred some white settlers and had appropriated their arms. It would have been surprising had they not done so, for the invaders armed the youth of the tribes just as was done on the Congo, and loosed them on the defenseless community — defenseless, since their simple weapons, such as the blowpipe and the ancient musket, had been purposely taken from them.

At this stage the concession for collecting the rubber was sold to the Peruvian Amazon company, a British trading concern of admitted standing and high morals, but, as it was afterwards found, of astounding ignorance as to what was certainly, and would most unquestionably continue to be, the result of employing semi-white savages and full-blooded negroes in the prosecution of trading methods in which they were paid on commission and by results.

Rubber had to be secured, and the natives were compelled to secure it. There was no pretense of justice or fair treatment. Flogging by tapir hide whips was introduced on such a scale and with such terrible results that the vast majority of the entire male population and much of the female was seared with terrible wounds which often caused death. Adults were flogged because of their own shortcoming in rubber collection and parents for those of their little children, who were forced to stand by while the mothers were practically beaten to death. Men and women for defaulting in quantity or attempting to escape were suspended by the arms twisted behind their backs and tied together at the wrists, and they were then in this agonizing position and with their feet well above the ground, scourged on their nether limbs and lower back.

Burned at Stake.

But these were trifles. The committee took evidence which revealed an appalling category of crime. It was no uncommon practice to pour kerosene oil on men and women and then set fire to them, to burn men at the stake, to dash out the brains of children, to hack off both arms and both legs of Indians, leaving them to a slow death on the pathways. One chief who refused to betray the refuge of his followers was so treated. It was a favorite practice to cut off the ears of living persons; in one case a man's ears were cut off and his wife was burned before his eyes. So fiendish was the temper of the jailers that once when four Indians were hung up with their arms twisted behind their backs a boy went around and bit pieces out of all of them and then amused himself by swinging them backward and forward.

Government Interested.

Washington, July 8.—Beneficial results are expected by officials here from the publication of the details of the Casement report on the atrocities against the Indians in the Peruvian rubber district.

While officials of the state department are inclined to be sympathetic with Peru in her present plight, especially as that government is now endeavoring to remedy a situation admittedly intolerable, it is believed that publicity will prove a good thing. For some time the state department was opposed to Peru being branded with the story of the Putumaya atrocities until that government had at least been given an opportunity to make amends. Now that Peru has shown a disposition to work reforms in the rubber districts, it is believed here that the government will be accelerated in its course by the publication of the facts to the world.

The United States government will be prepared, it is understood, to render any aid that may be desired by Peru. Thus far, however, Peru has declared that she can exert her authority in the rubber districts and put an end to the alleged cruelties practiced upon the Indians.

FOURTH CASUALTIES ARE ON DECREASE

Chicago, July 6.—Figures showing the casualties resulting through Fourth of July celebrations to be on the decrease are given by the Chicago Tribune. The figures as compiled are as follows:

The second day totals for 1912 are dead, thirty-nine; injured, 1,358 as compared with fifty-seven dead in 1911 and 1,546 injured.

FOUR KILLED WHEN TROLLEY CARS MEET

Many Persons Are Injured in Marion, Indiana, Street.

Marion, Ind., July 8.—Four persons were killed and more than a dozen seriously, some perhaps fatally, injured in a head-on collision between two interurban cars on the Marion, Bluffton & Eastern traction line, in this city.

The dead: William Lentz, Marion, glass worker; George Dolguffee, Upland, schoolteacher; Benjamin S. Silvers, Marion National Military home, barber; Garret Von Welldy, Marion, postman.

The collision was between a regular car and one loaded with merrymakers bound for Goldthwaite park, an amusement resort, and occurred on a straight track. No cause has been assigned for the accident.

THE SENATE RULES OUT AMENDMENT

Establishing the Ranks of Admiral and Vice Admiral.

Washington, July 5.—The senate today ruled out of the naval appropriation bill on a point of order the amendment establishing the ranks of admiral and vice admiral. The point was raised by Senator Bristow. The senate added several amendments to the bill. Among those agreed to is one for the enlistment for four years for all seamen who enlist at twenty-one years or over. Another authorizes the transfer of all lepers from Guam and elsewhere to some United States island possession, hereafter to be chosen.

An appropriation of $400,000 is made in another amendment for the purchase and preparation of necessary sites and the installation of high-power radio stations, the entire cost of which is not to exceed $1,000,000, in the canal zone, on the California, Washington or Alaska coasts, the Hawaiian islands, American Samoa, Guam and the Philippines.

CRADLE OF LIBERTY SCENE OF A RIOT

Boston, July 8.—At a meeting of the Industrial Workers of the World at Faneuil hall last night a riot broke out and shots were fired for the first time inside the "Cradle of Liberty."

STANLEY HIRSCH IS TO BE MARRIED

Will Wed Miss Ada M. Hattenbach, of Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Hattenbach, of No. 111 west Bancroft street, Toledo, Ohio, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Ada M. to Stanley K. Hirsch, on Thursday, July 18, at 5 o'clock.

Mr. Hirsch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Hirsch and is well known in Marion, having up to a few years ago made Marion his home.

THE WRECK ON THE LACKAWANNA RAILROAD AT CORNING, IN NEW YORK, IN WHICH OVER FORTY PEOPLE MET DEATH

ELECTRIC CHAIR CLAIMS THREE

Murderers Put to Death in Sing Sing Prison.

MOST HYSTERICAL EVER EXECUTED

Each Meets End Praying and Loudly Moaning.

The Three Men, Two Italians and a Negro, Are Executed in Rapid Succession—Five Other Italians Are Awaiting Death in Chair, Having Been Implicated with One of Italians in New York Murder.

Ossining, N. Y., July 8.—Three murderers were electrocuted in rapid succession at Sing Sing prison early today. The three men were the most hysterical ever electrocuted here, and each went moaning or praying to his death. The men electrocuted were:

Santo Zanzara, Italian, implicated in the murder of Mrs. Mary Hall, at Croton Lake, November 9, 1911.

Giuseppi Cerelli, Italian, who killed a fellow workman at the Millville reservoirs, at Yonkers.

George Williams, negro, who killed Charles Conklin, station agent at Croton Lake, in April, 1911.

The same voltage was used for each, but three contacts were required to kill Zanzara and Williams. Only two were necessary for Cerelli.

Zanzara showed greater terror of the electric chair than any man previously executed at Sing Sing. He moaned and sobbed in hysterics, but before he was strapped into the chair he knelt in prayer.

Others Await Death.

Before Zanzara was executed he wrote a statement in which he declared that he alone was guilty of the murder of Mrs. Hall. There are five other men awaiting execution for this crime. They are:

Vincenzo Zona, Angelo Guisti, Filcho de Marco, Lorenzo Cali and Salvator de Marco.

The statement made by Zanzara that all the others were innocent was the fifth that he had made. No two were alike and the other Italians will probably be unable to obtain a new trial.

Cerelli prayed in a loud voice before he was strapped in. He was in the chair eight minutes and Zanzara nine.

PROCEEDING IN IMPEACHMENT

Against Judge Archbold Presented to House

BY THE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE TODAY

Judge Declared To Be Guilty of Misdemeanors.

The Impeachment Proceedings Grow Out of the Now Famous Culm Bank Deals in Pennsylvania, in Which Archbold Is Interested. Testimony Said To Be Convincing as to Charges Made.

Washington, July 8.—The judiciary committee of the house presented to that body today articles of impeachment against Judge Robert W. Archbold, of the commerce court, who is characterized as "one whose sense of moral responsibility has become deadened."

The presentation of the charges, consisting of thirteen articles of impeachment, was one of the most solemn proceedings witnessed in the house in years. Chairman Clayton, of the judiciary committee, made the report, the adoption of which will mean the trial before the senate of Judge Archbald. In the indictment, Judge Archbald is termed by the committee as "one who has prostituted his high office for personal profit." The resolution charges in the customary form that Judge Archbald had been guilty of "misbehavior and high crimes and misdemeanors."

The impeachment proceeding grew out of the now famous culm bank deals in which the judge is alleged to have been interested in in Pennsylvania and the papers of impeachment contain a review of the recent hearing before the committee. The report is unanimous. The report of the committee charges:

Some of the Charges.

"The testimony shows at different times, while Judge Archbald was a judge of the United States district court, he sought and obtained credit and in other instances sought credit from persons who had litigation pending in his court.

"The testimony shows that after Judge Archbald had been promoted to the position of circuit judge and had been designated as one of the judges of the commerce court, he in connection with different persons, sought to obtain options on culm banks and other properties from agents and owners of the properties, owned and controlled by railroad companies."

The committee charges that in efforts to influence coal companies, which were subsidiary and owned by the railroad companies, Judge Archbald repeatedly sought to influence the officials of the railroads to enter into contracts with his associates for the final benefit of himself and his associates.

"In most instances," continues the resolutions, "contracts were executed in the name of the person associated with the judge in the particular transaction of trade, and the judge's name was not disclosed on the face of the contract.

Pecuniarily Interested.

"The testimony shows, however, that he was pecuniarily interested in such contracts and that while his interest was not known to the public, it was known to the officials of the railroad companies and to their subsidiaries."

"It was further charged that the testimony shows that when the associates of the judge would locate properties, the judge would take up the matter of purchase or sale with the officials of the coal companies and railroad companies.

"While these negotiations were being conducted," the report says, "and while terms were sought to be arranged, Judge Archbold's agents were making contracts with common carriers engaged in interstate commerce with litigation pending in the commerce court."

Amounts to a Scandal.

The disclosures of these options, contracts and agreements, the committee says, amounted to "a public scandal," when they became public.

"The testimony fails to disclose any cause in which Judge Archbald invested money of his own," admits the committee, "but shows that he used his personal influence as a judge in consideration for which he received or was to receive his share in the property or profits of the deal."

The committee says that such a course makes Judge Archbald "guilty of having grossly abused the proprieties of his office as judge."

In conclusion, the committee states that the conduct of this judge has been reprehensible and in marked contrast with the high sense of judicial ethics and probity that generally characterizes the federal judiciary.

The committee avers that a judge should be the "personification of integrity, honesty and uprightness in his daily walk and conversation."

In its sweeping indictment, the committee declared to the house:

"Your committee is of the opinion that Judge Archbald's sense of moral responsibility has become deadened. He has prostituted his high office for personal profit."

Degrades His Office.

"Archbald has attempted by various transactions to commercialize potentiality as a judge. He has shown an overweening desire to make gainful bargains with parties having cases before him.

"To accomplish this purpose, he has not hesitated to use his official power and influence. He has degraded his high office and destroyed the confidence of the public in his judicial integrity. He has forfeited the condition upon which he holds his commission, and should be removed from office by impeachment."

In the articles of impeachment the committee sets forth in detail the transactions in which Judge Archbald is alleged to have been involved as testified to during the recent hearings before the committee. They include the Katydid culm pike negotiations with E. J. Williams, and the alleged deal with the Marion Coal company and the Lackawanna railroad.

In presenting the report to the house today, Chairman Clayton, of the judiciary committee, gave notice that it would ask for action on the report tomorrow. Beyond the formal reading of the report, the house took no action upon the Archbald impeachment proceeding. The report probably will come to a vote immediately after the reading of the journal tomorrow.

Police Make Two Arrests Within Few Hours.

Child Disappears from Home in Daylight and Is Found Dying Few Hour, Later Within Half a Block of Her Home—Frail Body Is Mass of Cuts and Bruises—Police Early on Scene of Crime.

New York, July 8.—Two men were arrested today in connection with the murder of twelve-year-old Julia Connors, who fifteen hours after her disappearance from a crowded street in the Bronx Saturday night, was found dying, naked and mutilated, in a vacant lot a half block from her home. At 1:30 a. m., the police arrested Giovanni Gerissi, of No. 1699 Foulton avenue. The other man arrested gave the name of Jefferson Kelly. He is fifty-one years old, and admitted he had done no work for two years. He is described by the police as "a park lounger."

The police admit they have no direct evidence against these men and it is generally believed the slayer is still at large. As a consequence, parents living in the Bronx are in a state of terror.

After Julia had been frightfully tortured, her body was placed in a box and left in a vacant lot in the rear of No. 183 east Seventy-Third street, between Third and Fulton avenues. There it was found yesterday by a boy who had gone out to play. The boy gave the alarm. A man ran into the lot. He saw there were still signs of life in the little body. He applied "first aid" and the suffering child opened her eyes.

A Man, Moans Child.

"Who did it?" she was asked.

"A man, a man," moaned the girl. She died an hour later in the Fordham hospital.

Detectives, who were put on the case, as well as physicians called in, declared the man who tortured Julia was a fiend of the lowest type, mentally and morally—a man whose mind resembled that of London's "Jack the Ripper." Her body had been hacked with a double-edged knife. There were forty-one stab wounds. Twenty-one were in the back. Other wounds were on the hands, wrists, arms and throat. The torturer finally completed his work by stabbing the child in the heart. That she lived after this last stab had been inflicted was considered marvelous.

One of the most pathetic features of the case is that little Julia was returning from confession at the Church of Our Lady of Victory near her home when she was seized by the fiend. She was to have met her parents in Croton park.

Seven Camorrists Get Thirty Years in Prison.

ARE FOUND GUILTY AFTER LONG TRIAL

One Man Tries To End Life When Sentenced.

Pandemonium Reigns When President of Court Reports Findings of Jury—Police and Carbineers Are Held in Readiness, with Fixed Bayonets, Fearing Prisoners May Plan Escape.

Viterbo, Italy, July 9—In varying degrees the Camorrists who have been on trial for nearly two years on the charge of murdering Gennara Cuoccolo and his wife in June, 1906, were found guilty.

The verdict says Corrado Sortino guilty of both murders; Nicola Morra Antonio Cerrato and Majiano di Gennaro guilty of the murder of Cuoccolo, and Giuseppi Salvi guilty of the murder of Cuoccolo's wife. Enrico Alfano, the alleged leader of the Camorrists, Giovanni Rapi, Di Marinas and the others are convicted of being instigators of the crime and members of a criminal organization.

The president of the court immediately sentenced the condemned men. Sortino Morrato, Salvi, Morra, Di Gennaro Alfano Rapi and Di Marinas were sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment and to 10 years' police surveillance each; Di Mattio to 10 years and six months' imprisonment and 10 years' surveillance; Ascritore to 10 years' imprisonment and three years' surveillance; Vitozzi, the priest, seven years' imprisonment and two years surveillance, the others to five years' imprisonment and three years' surveillance.

When the accused men were placed in the iron cage to hear the verdict, Di Marinas suddenly drew forth a piece of glass and cut his throat. He fell to the floor in a pool of blood and general pandemonium broke loose The other prisoners screamed like wild animals, shouting invectives and imprecations

Rapi shouted "This innocent blood is crying for revenge."

Rages Around Cage.

Alfano raged around and recalled his brother's death, who, he cried, was a "victim of injustice and a man who had suffered the martyrdom of innocence."

Vitozzi knelt, weeping and praying. All the prisoners acted like maniacs, and the carbineers had difficulty in forcing their way into the cage to maintain order and carry out the wounded Di Marinas.

The pronouncement of sentence was received with uproarious protests from the condemned men One of them shouted "We are innocent. This is legal assassination."

Some of them shook their fists at the judge and others tore at the bars of the cage They attempted in concert to harangue those assembled in the court

In addition to the police and carbineers within the building, a battalion of troops with fixed bayonets was drawn up outside It was feared that some attempt might be made to rescue the prisoners

Di Marinas is in a serious condition The glass with which he attempted suicide severed an artery, which was tied but Di Marinas, the moment he was left alone, tore off the bandages and reopened the wound Surgeons again dressed his injuries, but the wounded man declared that he was determined to die.

The verdict as a whole proved somewhat of a surprise and all are agreed that the severity of the sentences is the last blow to the Camorra which has practically been annihilated since the arrest of its leaders

GALION MAN IS THE VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Has Both Legs Broken While Clearing Up Wreck.

The most serious feature of the Southwestern accident and wreck, at the Big Four overhead bridge, occurred at 7.40, Monday morning, and as a result, Milton McClure, of Summit avenue, Galion is in a serious condition at the Galion General hospital.

Mr McClure is the section foreman of the Southwestern and was busily engaged with his men in attempting to replace the derailed car on the track It was while this work was going on Monday morning that the jack gave way and the car truck slipped falling on both of Mr. McClure's limbs, badly injuring him.

McClure suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, with the bones bored through the fleshy part. While every effort is being made to avoid it there are grave fears that amputation may be necessary. The right leg was badly fractured and badly crushed, with the flesh torn from the leg.—Galion Inquirer.

George Hatcher, the former Big Four brakeman, who was injured while attempting to board a freight train a few days ago, was able to leave the Marion City hospital, Monday.

OLIVE BRANCH IS LAID ASIDE

The Progressive Democrats To Ignore Conservatives.

CHICAGO CHOSEN AS HEADQUARTERS

Democratic Leaders Call on Governor Wilson and Consult Him About Selection of Campaign Manager, but No Agreement Is Yet Reached. Tom Taggart Quits Democratic National Committee.

Sea Girt, N. J., July 9.—In a gathering of Democratic politicians at the Little White House, it was made plain that this is to be a campaign run by the progressive wing of the Democratic party, headed by a progressive chairman, managed by progressive committees, and there will be no olive branching, no concessions, no placating of any conservative elements in the party at any stage of the game. The progressive fight is to be carried on in every state in the Union.

The national headquarters is to be in Chicago, and not only will there be an eastern branch headquarters in New York city, but another in Denver or San Francisco. There will be no more effort made to attract the support of progressive Republicans than conservative Democrats.

Gore Clarifies Situation.

United States Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma, who arrived just about the time the Jersey men had put in an appearance, seemed to have been able to clarify the situation. Senator Gore had a two hours' talk with the governor and he made no concealment of his gratification after the interview was over The senator sounded the progressive keynote, and it may be added that he will play a big part in the fight He said that the party needed a man like McCombs or A. Mitchell Palmer for national chairman, and whoever the man is to be, he must be a man of the "new type."

"I think," he said, "the Republicans are split up. The Democratic party is a unit, battling as one man, under Wilson's leadership, for real Democracy—real democracy, understand that.

"We have a chieftain who simply embodies the real spirit of progress. I can not say too often—I want this to go down—that Governor Wilson is wise enough to know that 'too swift arrives as tardy as too slow.'

"A considerable number of the progressive Republicans will support Wilson. The Democrats are organizing and conducting a vigorous, thorough-going campaign."

After the senator had departed Governor Wilson said that he and the senator had cantered pretty well over the entire field, discussing a great many things of interest.

Taggart Quits Committee.

Washington, July 9—Thomas Taggart of Indiana has resigned his place on the Democratic national committee, to take place on July 14. Mr Taggart insists that his only purpose in quitting the national committee was to get out of politics. He said he is perfectly satisfied with Wilson's nomination.

Three Fatally Injured.

Cleveland O., July 9.—An automobile carrying eight passengers was struck by a Lake Shore freight train at a railroad crossing and seven were injured, three fatally. THE VEHICLE ORDINANCE AS PASSED BY THE CITY COUNCIL

The following is the vehicle ordinance passed by the city council, Monday night:

Ordinance No. 46. To regulate the use of cars, wagons, hackney coaches, omnibusses, automobiles, motorcycles, tricycles, bicycles, and every description of vehicle in the city of Marion, Ohio.

Be it ordained by the council of the city of Marion, Ohio.

Section 1. That the owner, operator, driver or person in charge of any dray, wagon, hackney coach, omnibus, automobile, carriage, buggy, motorcycle, tricycle, bicycle or other vehicle, used, propelled or driven upon the streets of the city of Marion, shall conform to and observe the following rules of the road upon all such streets, alleys, avenues and public places in said city:

Section 2. A vehicle shall be driven, in a careful manner and with due regard for the safety and convenience of pedestrians and of other vehicles.

Section 3. Vehicles shall keep to the right side of the street except when necessary to turn to the left in crossing the street, or overtaking another vehicle.

Section 4. Vehicles meeting shall pass each other to the right.

Section 5. Vehicles overtaking shall keep to the left of the overtaken vehicle in passing.

Section 6. Vehicles moving slowly shall keep as close as possible to the curb on the right, allowing more swiftly-moving vehicles free passage to the left.

Section 7. The driver or any person having charge of a vehicle, before turning the corner of any street, or turning out, or starting from or stopping at the curb line of any street, shall first see that there is sufficient space free from other vehicles, so that such turn, start or stop may be safely made, and shall then give a plainly visible or audible signal.

Section 8. Vehicles turning to the right into another street, shall turn the corner as near to the right and curb as possible.

Section 9. Vehicles turning to the left into another street, alley or thoroughfare, shall pass to the right of and beyond the center of street intersection before turning.

Section 10. Vehicles crossing from one side of the street to the other, shall do so by turning to the left, so as to head in the same direction as the traffic on that side of the street.

Section 11. Vehicles at all times shall keep their right side to the curb, when desiring to stop on the left side of the street, making a complete circle bringing the right side of the vehicle to the curb.

Section 12. No vehicle except apparatus and vehicles of police, fire and hospital departments, and physicians in cases of emergency, shall be driven through a procession except with the permission of a police officer.

Section 13. Apparatus and vehicles of fire, police and hospital departments, shall have the right of way through all streets, alleys or thoroughfares.

Section 14. The driver of every vehicle shall give some plainly visible or audible signal, and shall keep his vehicle at least four feet from the running board or lower step of any street car that is stopped for the purpose of taking on or discharging passengers.

Section 15. Street cars shall stop at one side of the street at the cross walk to discharge or take on passegners, and not obstruct any intersecting street.

Section 16. No vehicle shall remain backed up to the curb in the congested district, except that it be loading or unloading, and in such case no longer than sixty minutes.

Section 17. No vehicle shall be left standing within twenty-five feet of either side or entrance to any theater or public building, except when taking on or discharging passengers or freight, and then only for such length of time as is necessary.

Section 18. No horse or vehicle shall be driven, backed or led or allowed to stand on any sidewalk, and no vehicle backed up to such curb, whether in the process of loading or unloading, shall obstruct the free passageway of pedestrians on the sidewalk by laying a plank from the wagon to the door or by the use of skids, in such a way as to force pedestrians into the streets.

Section 19. The horse or horses attached to a vehicle backed up to the curb in the congested district, shall be turned at right angle to the vehicle, or as near that angle as possible and in the direction in which the traffic on that side of the street is going

Section 20. Any vehicle standing at the curb in the congested district between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. shall move away from such curb at the request of a police officer.

Section 21. Within the meaning of this ordinance, congested districts shall be streets located between Church street and Mill street, inclusive, and between State street and Prospect street, inclusive.

Section 22. Unless to allow another vehicle or pedestrian to cross its path, no vehicle shall stop in any public highway of this city except close to the curb line.

Section 23. No vehicle shall stop for the purpose of taking on or setting down a passenger, or loading or unloading freight or for any other purpose, except in case of accident or other emergency, or when directed to stop by the police, in such a way as to obstruct any street or crossing, and then must move on as soon as again possible.

Section 24. No vehicle shall stop or stand within the intersection of any street or within ten feet of any street car.

Section 25. No bicyclist or motorcyclist in the city of Marion shall carry upon his bicycle or motorcycle any child under the age of five years.

Section 26. No person shall operate in the city of Marion, Ohio, any automobile, motorcycle or other motor vehicle, within the corporation limits, without having the same properly muffled, or at a speed exceeding eight miles per hour in the congested district, and twelve miles per hour in the resident district.

Section 27. No person shall ride upon the back of any vehicle without the consent of the driver, and when so riding, no part of the person's body must protrude beyond the limits of the vehicle, nor shall any person hang onto any vehicle in any manner whatsoever.

Section 28. No driver of an automobile, motorcycle, or other vehicle of motor power, shall pass any street car in the city of Marion while taking on or discharging passengers, except at the central transfer of said street car company.

Section 29. Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than five dollars and not more than $25 for the first offense, and for a second or succeeding offense, shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than $50.

Section 30. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

RESERVE MORE SEATS TO PLEASE PUBLIC

Chautauqua Board Adds Two Hundred Reserved Chairs.

At a special meeting of the Chautauqua board, held Monday night, the members voted to accede to the public demand for more reserved seats, which is made possible by the addition to the new tent There will be about 200 additional seats reserved, solely at the request of patrons, and these 200 will go on sale Thursday, July 11, at 8 a. m. None will be sold prior to that hour no telephone orders will be accepted. No seats will be exchanged. There will be 300 additional unreserved chairs—over a thousand in all unreserved.

The board also voted to oil Fairground and Harrison streets, and State street, north of Fairground, to avoid the dust nuisance. This will bring about a decided improvement.

One number was added to the program. So many here were delighted with Dr. John Wesley Hill that he was engaged to lecture on "World Peace," after the evening concert on July 24. Dr. Hill is president of the International Peace Forum.

The board voted to extend a fraternal invitation to Brooks Fletcher and W. G. Harding to attend the assembly and try the accoustics of the new tent. This is taken to be a courtesy rather than any threat against the assembly.

A half hundred tent spaces have already been assigned to campers. It is expected that close to a hundred private tents will be pitched at the grounds during assembly week.

THE CONDITION OF GRAIN CROPS

The Crop-Reporting Board Gives Out the Figures.

Washington, July 9.—A report issued today by the crop-reporting board of the agricultural department estimates the condition of the grain crops July 1 as follows:

Winter wheat, 73.3 against 74.3 June 1, 1912, and 76 8 July 1, 1911.

Spring wheat, 89.3 against 95.8 June 1, 1912, and 73.8 July 1, 1911.

All wheat 80.1 against 83.5 June 1, 1912, and 55.6 July 1, 1911.

Corn, 81.5 against—June 1 figures not given—80 1 July 1, 1911.

Oats, 89.2 against 91.1 June 1, 1912, and 68 8 July 1, 1911.

Barley, 88.3 against 91.1 June 1, 1912, and 72.1 July 1, 1911.

Ten-year averages—Winter wheat, 80.2; spring wheat, 85.6 all wheat, 82.8; corn, 84.6; oats, 84.8; barley, 86.

Big Spider Taken.—One of the largest tarantulas ever seen here was captured Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock by Michael Stafford, who was unloading a car of bananas for the Amicon Fruit company, at a siding near the Big Four freight house. The tarantula, when spread out, was over four inches in diameter, covering the bottom of a tomato can.

ENGLISH MINERS ARE ENTOMBED

Death List at Conisborough May Be Large.

EXPLOSION WRECKS SECTION OF A PIT

Noxious Gases Drive Rescue Squads Back.

A Striking Circumstance in Connection with the Disaster Is Fact That Just a Few Hours Previous to Accident King George Is Shown Through the Mine—Many Scenes of Pathos.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Eng., July 9.—An explosion wrecked a section of the Gadeby coal pit at Conisborough, Yorkshire, today. Mine officials, several hours after the explosion today, said that the death list would assuredly be more than forty, while others were missing and were believed to be dead in the shaft. It was feared that many of the imprisoned miners who escaped death in the explosion would be killed by the poisonous fumes.

Immediately after the explosion a squad of relief workers entered the mouth of the mine, but could make little headway in their labors because of the presence of noxious gases.

Scenes of pathos and excitement attended the disaster, while the families of the penned-up miners clustered about the pit mouth imploring that their relatives be rescued.

The King Visits Mine.

Conisborough is the seat of the Yorkshire mining district in West Riding

A striking circumstance in connection with the mine disaster was the fact that King George visited the colliery yesterday and was shown through the plant If the explosion had happened twenty-four hours earlier, the king might have lost his life. The king is the guest of the Earl of Fitzwilliam in Yorkshire

There were two detonations in the mine following each other so closely that persons living at a distance thought that but one explosion had occurred. The second was heard two miles away. It is believed that coal dust was exploded by a shot. One hundred and fifty miners were at work in the mine at the time

At 2 o'clock this afternoon thirty bodies had been recovered. Mine officials declared that all the missing had been accounted for, but some of the miners present still cling to the belief that the death list would go over forty

Many of the corpses taken out were burned so badly they could not be identified.

AVIATION CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

Frenchman Is Killed When He Runs Into Thick Fog.

Paris, July 9.—Aviation claimed another life today when Aviator Bedel was crushed to death beneath the motor of his aeroplane Bedel was flying from St. Cyr to Chalons when he ran into a thick fog. The aviator landed so violently that his machine was overturned and he was caught beneath the heavy motor. He was dead when picked up.

HILLES GIVEN CHAIRMANSHIP

Of the National Republican Committee.

JAMES B. REYNOLDS IS MADE SECRETARY

Treasurer To Be Selected at a Later Time.

Sub-Committee Practically Decides on Otto Bannard for Treasurership, George R. Sheldon, Who Has Twice Gathered the Republican Shekels, Declining To Serge Again. Taft Makes Suggestions.

Washington, July 9—Charles Dewey Hilles, secretary to President Taft, was today selected by the committee on organization of the Republican committee to act as chairman. The selection of Hilles was made at the direct request of the president and followed a White House conference today.

The advisory and other committees will not be selected until the next meeting, which will be called in about a week or ten days, probably for this city.

James B. Reynolds, of Illinois, member of the defunct tariff board, was selected secretary of the national committee.

The sub-committe, before adjournment announced that the selection of the treasurer would not be made until the next meeting.

Tribute to Hilles.

In naming the president's private secretary for the responsible post of chairman and manager of the Taft campaign during the coming fight, the committee on organization paid tribute to the good work which Mr. Hilles had done for Taft. A number of the members of the sub-committee, it was learned today, were opposed to Hilles on the ground that he was too young; that he was inexperienced in the wiles of politics and that he was generally unfit to lead the Republican cohorts in the stiffest fight they have had in the past two decades. But the president being the nominee, was by courtesy given the deciding vote and he decided upon his secretary for the position.

When the sub-committee left the White House, they announced that the selection of the chairman had been left to them. Inaccuracy of this statement was shown when, ten minutes after they reconvened at the New Willard hotel, they announced the name of Charles Dewey Hilles, to whom a number of the sub-committee are known to be antagonistic. The announcement was accompanied by the information that Mr. Hilles was the unanimous choice of the committee, and entire harmony reigned throughout its deliberations

Hilles Is Pleased.

Hilles was sent for and he dashed to the hotel in an automobile.

"Of course, I'm glad to receive this honor," he said in response to a question from a bystander. "I will do all I can possibly do to direct the party to victory and I'm glad to know that I will have the help and support of the able men who comprise the various sub-committees."

The committee on organization conferred with the new chairman as to the details of the preliminary work.

A few minutes after Hilles' name was given out, James B. Reynolds, of Illinois, was selected for secretary of the new national committee. Reynolds is a personal and social friend of the Tafts. He was a member of the tariff board which went into oblivion July 1 on account of lack of appropriations. After conferring with the sub-committee, Mr. Hilles announced that the Republican party will open headquarters in New York, Chicago and on the Pacific coast, probably at Portland, early in the fall.

The men in charge of these divisions will be announced later.

The selection of the treasurer will be made at the next meeting of the sub-committee to be held at the Waldorf in New York City, July 19.

LITTLE GIRL IS SLAIN IN NEW YORK; POLICE SEARCH FOR THE MURDERER

Julia O'Conner, a pretty little eleven year old girl, was found cruelly murdered in a vacant lot near her home in New York city. The police are seeking a man who was seen talking to the girl shortly before she disappeared, but it is believed that he has skipped out and will be found in some other city.

PATRIARCHS MILITANT MEET AT YOUNGSTOWN

Seventy-Third Annual Session Held in Mahoning County City.

Youngstown, O, July 9.—The seventy-third annual session of the Patriarchs Militant, I. O. O. F., began here with delegates present from all parts of the state. Considerable business was transacted preceding the grand encampment, which opened today. The officials elected and installed by the Patriarchs Militant are as follows: General commander, A. R. Stocker, Miamisburg; major general, Perry D. Knap, Toledo; vice president, R. F. Potts, Cleveland; secretary, Fred H. A. Hahn, Toledo; treasurer, Frank C. Garrett, Dayton; chaplain, Ensign Myers; sentinel, M. L. Muma, Fostoria; officer of the day, W. L. Ryan, Dayton.

Name Kunkle For Judge.

Dayton, O., July 9.—Albert H. Kunkle of Springfield was nominated for circuit judge by the Republicans of the Second judicial circuit, in convention here. David F. Pugh of Columbus and Judge C. W. Dustin of Dayton, present incumbent, were other candidates.

MARION PROOF

Should Convince Every Star Reader.

The frank statement of a neighbor, telling the merits of a remedy,
Bids you pause and believe.
The same endorsement
By some stranger far away
Commands no belief at all.
Here's a Marion case.
A Marion citizen testifies.
Read and be convinced.

L. M. Holverstott, 633 Park St., Marion, Ohio, says: "Last winter I had a severe attack of kidney trouble. The pain across the small of my back was almost unbearable. The kidney secretions were disordered, filled with sediment and the passages were very painful. The flow was scanty and too frequent. A member of my family had used Doan's Kidney Pills before I began to take them. After two boxes had been finished My trouble gradually disappeared and I felt better in every way. It gives me pleasure to let the public now of one kidney medicine that lives up to the claims made for it."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
